WASHINGTON LETTER.

Some News Collected at the National Capital by Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, AUGUST 12, 1901—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans—"Fighting Bob" should, in the opinion of his friends, regard the letter of censure written him by acting Secretary Hackett for telling the truth in his book about the manner in which "Little Billy" Chandler treated him because he would not wink at the dirty political bargains that Chandler made while he was secretary of the navy as an honor rather than a disgrace. Admiral Evans is a democrat. That was why Chandler officially mistreated him and that was why he found it so easy to get him censured by the present administration. But there is another reason why Admiral Evans should consider this censure an honor. It was given him for telling what everyone knows to have been the truth by a department which has not had one word to say of the lying abuse of Rear Admiral Schley by one of its employes. If Maclay has its approval, as he appears to have, any honest man ought to be proud to have the disapproval of the Navy Department as at present conducted.

In official reports, just published by the War Department, Gen. Chaffee has written some very plain language concerning "a scheme of settlement" for damages done by Boxers to Chinese Christians connected with the American Congregational mission submitted to him by Minister Conger asking both a money and land indemnity from the Chinese government. It may be inferred from the official expression of his opinion on it, which follows, that Gen. Chaffee did not O. K., the scheme: "The scheme of settlement' as it appears to me, is very much in the line of business called 'squeeze,' which we hear a great deal about in China."

Col. G. B. Hoff, a prominent Ohio politician, told the following story in Washington to illustrate the difference between then and now in the Republican party of Ohio: "The solicitude Senator Hanna has lately shown for the reelection of Senator Foraker is in striking contrast to the attitude the junior Senator assumed toward his present colleague before the Cleveland man had political fish of his own to fry. The late Col. A. L. Conger, formerly national committeeman and a friend of James G. Blaine, told the story in a series of public letters in 1897 at the time Mr Hanna was making his campaign for election to the Senate, after having been appointed by Gov. Bushnell to succeed John Sherman. The chief ... of Hanna's hatred for For... one of the ... that ... was ... and ... friend. ...ger's story, as ... committee, he ... and raised money ...gn and among other ...nna. Hanna was then ... national politics but he ... man and had been a lib... contributor to campaign funds. When approached on this occasion, however, Colonel Conger said he announced that he would give 'not a cent for Foraker,' his declaration being punctuated by adjectives both picturesque and expressive. To-day, it is different. Hanna has probably no more love for Foraker than he had when the latter wanted to be governor but the exigencies of politics have compelled these natural enemies to make their bed together and thus there is 'harmony' among Ohio republicans."

The Knights of Labor have combined with the American Anti-Trust League and employed a well-known Washington lawyer to prepare a plan for helping the steel strikers by starting legal proceedings against the steel trust under the anti-trust laws of every state in which it operates. Ex-Attorney General Monett, of Ohio has been instrumental in starting these organizations after the big trusts. In a letter to an official of one of them he said: "You have the correct idea. Under the Ohio anti-trust act we can reach them in Ohio right now both criminally and civilly. We have the strongest act under which to attack them of any of the states except Texas. We can fill the jails with violators of our anti trust laws as rapidly as they can jail workingmen for contempt." The outcome of this movement will be watched with interest both by the trusts which are after everything, including the freedom of the individual and the anti-trust men who believe that it is necessary to break the power of the trusts in some way before they become too strong to be broken by any other means than brute force. The anti-trust men are also after Attorney General Knox to know why he doesn't proceed against the steel trust for having violated the Sherman anti-trust law. They may not succeed in making Knox do anything but they will call public attention to his failure to do what he might.

Outside of those interested in and responsible for the job, for job it is, even if a little one, it is doubtful whether a single member of the last Congress had any idea that the item in the Agricultural bill, carrying an appropriation of $20,000 for "pomological investigation" was an entering wedge for the payment of an export fruit bounty by this government. The cat is now out of the bag and, in answer to a letter from Secretary Wilson, the Comptroller of the Treasury has decided that the money can be used either to guarantee a minimum return to fruit shippers or to defray a whole or part of the transportation charges—in other words, it can be used to pay a bounty to the shippers of American fruit who are fortunate enough to be in the good graces of Secretary Wilson. Owing to the tournament of St. Joseph's being held on the 22, the tournament on Kent Island, has been postponed until Tuesday, August 27. The managers have prepared an excellent program for the day's pleasure and assure those who come will be well repaid for their trouble.

The annual grand tournament for the benefit of St. Joseph's Catholic Church will be held on the church green next Thursday the 22d. The knights of this county and others are cordially invited to attend and participate in the festivities. Tilting will begin at 3 P. M. and will be concluded with a dance.

"My baby was terribly sick with the diarrhœa,' says J. H. Doak, of Williams, Oregon. "We were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a complete cure." For sale by B. E. Cockey & Co.

A GRAND SUCCESS.

The Most Successful Tournament Ever Held at "My Lord's Gift," Held Tuesday.

That ye ancient and honorable sport of tilting has lost none of its charm, and that the display of chivalric instincts on the part of her cavaliers is still as dear to the heart of the "ladye faire" as of yore, was amply attested by the large assembly of the people that gathered at the farm of Mr. William J. Pinder, Tuesday at the picturesque old "My Lord's Gift" to attend the annual tournament as arranged by the committee of St. Peter's Catholic Church for the benefit of which the tournament was held. There were about 700 persons present. This function has become one of the time-honored institutions of this vicinity and should by chance any unforeseen interruption transpire to prevent its occurrence, it would be regarded as nothing short of a calamity.

The scene of the tournament was the large level lawn just in front of Mr. Pinder's residence. The lawn is a portion of a high plateau that commands a sweeping view of the beautiful Chester river. Both sides of the courses were lined with vehicles freighted with the wit, beauty and fashion of this and adjoining counties. The young ladies, with beaming faces, flashing eyes and gay millinery, completed a charming picture which Dame Nature had done so much to enhance.

The overhanging heavy black clouds and the occasional raindrops had no terrors for this enthusiastic community. By 9 o'clock the vehicles began to arrive, this influx gradually increasing until a steady stream of vehicles dashed along the highways as far as the eye could reach. The monotony of the long wait was broken by the accommodating bandmaster, of the Kent Island brass band, who regaled his appreciative audience with patriotic melodies. Another pleasing feature was the ice-cream stand, which did a thriving business and the dinner and supper served were just as grand as at any former tournament which is saying enough. Attention was only distracted from these important places when some favorite knight had covered himself with glory and successfully run the gauntlet by taking three rings, amid the plaudits of the lady for whom he was riding and her companions and supporters.

The gaily bedecked knights and their gorgeous caparisoned and prancing steeds were, of course, the cynosure of all eyes. The hoof-beats sounded the sweetest music to the ears of the expectant queen, who sat about, each eager that her especial knight should win and with a telltale expression of consciousness upon her face, which they vainly tried to conceal. Colonel W. Scott Roberts delivered the charge to the knights in a volume of oratory that caused sparks to flash in the eyes of the attentive knights and brought roses to the cheeks of the ladies, so eloquent was his tribute to man's gallantry.

The knights who leveled their lances and the scores made were: William J. Callahan, 9; James DeLacy, 8; Charles Connelly, 8; Thos. Shortall, 8; James Dodd, 7; Walter Kinnamon, 7; William Grimes, 7; Charles Brown, 7; William Connellp, 7; John Connelly, 6; Griffin J. Embert, 6; Frederick Shortall, 6. There was a money prize of $10 to go to the first four knights, divided as follows: $10 to the first, $5 to the second, $3 to the third and $1 to the fourth. The successful knights were Wm. J. Callahan, first, who crowned Miss Mamie Favinger the queen of the pageant; James DeLacy, second, who crowned Miss Isabella DeLacy, first maid of honor; Charles Connelly, third, who crowned Miss Mamie Skinner, second maid of honor; T. Shortall, fourth, who crowned Miss Stephania Bunn, third maid of honor. Mr. James T. Bright, of the Centreville bar and a nominee on the Democratic ticket for the legislature, gave a well selected address on the coronation. Col. W. Scott Roberts, J. L. Goldsborough and W. H. DeLacy acted as judges.

After the tilting, a game of base ball between the Stevensville and Queenstown nines was played. The Island boys proved superior to our boys and, at the end of the fifth inning when the game was called on account of the lateness of the hour, the score was 8 to 1 in favor of the Stevensville boys.

A bicycle, picture and several other valuable articles were raffled off. The bicycle was won by Mr. Moffett, who operated a merry-go-round in "Bolingly Park" during the encampment at Camp Smith.

The managers are well pleased with the liberality shown by the many patrons of the tournaments and the receipts are the largest ever realized from these very successful entertainments and it is expected that the amount realized will reach $250.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured." ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

John H. Minner Caught in Delaware After Much Difficulty and Brought Here.

John H. Minner, formerly of Winchester, who was indicted for forgery last May by the grand jury, and could not then be located, has at last been captured at Dover, Delaware, from whence he was brought to Centreville, Friday night of last week by Deputy Sheriff T. Frank Seward.

Last April, Minner presented himself at the Queenstown Savings Bank and gave Mr. O. Tilghman Davidson, the cashier, a note signed by W. H. Saddler, Carey Saddler and Thomas J. Melvin all of Winchester. Cashier Davidson detected that the note was fraudulent and refused to discount it. Minner then left Winchester. State's Attorney J. Frank Harper and Deputy Sheriff Seward have since then kept a vigilant lookout for the whereabouts of the culprit. They located him in Ridgely in the early part of June. They later learned that he was at Whiteleysburg. From the latter place he migrated to Delaware, about eight miles below Dover, where, through the assistance of Sheriff Reedy, of Dover, he was located and arrested.

Deputy Seward went to Dover on Friday morning. He went to Sheriff Reedy and had a writ issued. The sheriff, assisted by his deputy, went out to arrest Minner and found him at the house stated. Sheriff Reedy read the writ to him but the culprit denied that he was the right man. As the sheriff turned his back, Minner made a dash for liberty. The sheriff, running after him, called to him to halt and, upon the offender's refusal, shot at him. Minner, very much frightened, fell down and shouted as if he had been wounded. He had not been hit, however. The sheriff handcuffed him and carried him to Dover jail. Deputy Seward went to Minner and asked him if he knew him. Minner hesitated sometime before he would admit knowing the deputy sheriff. Upon being questioned closely, Minner admitted having seen the deputy both at Centreville and Winchester. He at first refused to come to Centreville but it being explained that he would have to stay in Dover jail until the requisition papers were obtained, he acquiesced and was brought to Centreville and lodged in jail, Friday evening. Both State's Attorney Harper and Deputy Sheriff Seward, who jointly have traced, located and now brought the criminal to justice, are deserving of great credit for their excellent work.

Minner was interviewed in the jail last Saturday morning and made the following statement: "Last April, while under the influence of liquor, I went to Carey Saddler and got him to fix me up a note for $38.16. I then affixed the signature of Thomas Melvin, Carey Saddler and W. H. Saddler. I went to the Queenstown Savings Bank but Cashier Davidson refused to discount the note. Not receiving any money, I did not consider myself guilty of any offense and went to Caroline county, not to escape the law, but because I had obtained work on the farm of Mr. Carroll Johnson, near Ridgely. I at first worked as a day hand and then picked berries. On the 6th of June I went back to Winchester and carried the family of William Mansfield to Ridgely to pick berries. I did not go to Whiteleysburg but proceeded to Delaware, near Woodside, where my mother and brother live. I was very much surprised when the sheriff came to arrest me, thinking the matter had blown over. I have never been in trouble before, except on one occasion, two years ago, when I was brought up before 'Squire Townshend for disorderly behavior when I had been drinking."

Stole a Team.

Edward Flemming, colored, who worked in the barber shop of Chas. F. Bryson, Centreville, stole the horse and carriage of Charles H. Burgess last Monday night. Mr. Burgess' colored man had come to the Queen Anne's Railroad pier to meet Mr. Burgess, who was returning from Baltimore on the steamer Queen Anne. While he was on the wharf awaiting the steamer's arrival, the negro, who was drunk, stole the team and ran the horse off at full speed. When the owner arrived he was told that the team had been stolen. A search was at once begun and the carriage, badly demolished, was found on the Queenstown and Wright Neck road. The horse was later found badly crippled and internally injured. It is probably ruined for life.

The arrest was made by Constables Coursey and Whiteley, who went first to a colored camp near town. They there learned that the negro had left for Centreville. Upon going to his home in that town they found him absent but later discovered him at the house of a colored woman in that town. He tried to escape but officers captured and landed him in jail. He was given a hearing before 'Squire Emory, Tuesday who held him for court under $500 bail. He admitted his guilt, his only excuse being that he was drunk.

"Through the months of June and July our baby was teething and took a running off of the bowels and sickness of the stomach," says O. P. M. Holliday, of Deming, Ind. "His bowels would move from five to eight times a day. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house and gave him four drops in a teaspoonful of water and he got better at once." Sold by B. E. Cockey & Co.

Apprentices in Agriculture.

The Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station, instead of having all the work in the dairy and horticultural divisions performed by regular paid laborers, has some of it done by apprentices. This method has been adopted in order to offer young men with a good common-school education and no means to take a college course an opportunity to become skilled in this kind of work. It will enable young farmers to engage in some of the farming specialties in an intelligent manner. By having this labor performed by persons more interested in what they are doing than in the money they are going to receive it will give the college and station a nucleus for extending their work and a more appreciative constituency. The apprenticeships are open to farmers' sons, and the station will board and room the apprentice or pay the equivalent in money, according as desired. A dairy apprentice is expected to stay six months and a horticultural apprentice one year. The station will furnish the instruction and facilities for instruction given in the several branches pertaining to the specialty taken up. The plan is to divide the work which would ordinarily be performed by one laborer among three apprentices. Only a limited number can be accommodated, and vacancies will be filled in the order in which they apply.

Republicans of Talbot Disagree.

The Talbot county Times, one of the oldest republican papers on the Eastern Shore, is out against the local ticket nominated by its party in Easton last Monday and urges all republicans to send into "political oblivion" all the nominees, with one exception. The Times says:

"A few of the men named are respectable and well-qualified, while others are notoriously unfit, morally, to conduct the offices to which they aspire. The method by which they were all nominated is an insult to and an outrage upon the decent element of the Republican party and should be rebuked by them at the polls in November.

"The campaign of the Republicans will be made largely on the 'bossism' of Mr. Gorman; but how they can raise that cry while supporting the present ticket, we fail to see. The ex-Senator, in his palmiest days, gave no such reckless exhibition of his power.

"For reasons which are well known the friends of Colonel Mullikin will generally support the nominee for Sheriff, if he accepts the nomination. But, in our opinion, and we voice the sentiment of hundreds of Republicans in all parts of the county—every effort should be made to send into political oblivion on November 6 every other man on the ticket. The time is at hand for decisive action."
