WASHINGTON LETTER.

Some News Collected at the National Capital by Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27th, 1902.—There is unlimited joy in democratic circles in Washington over the harmony which prevails throughout the party and the prospects that united effort will not only elect many democratic members to the House of Representatives but will cut down the republican majorities all along the line. Within the past week David Bennett Hill has returned to his own and has spoken in the Wigwam of Tammany Hall. Ex-President Cleveland has not contented himself with writing an inspiring letter to the New York democracy but has promised to go on the stump and on Thursday will address an audience at the grand rally to be held at Morristown, N. J., in support of DeWitt C. Flanagan, nominee of the Fifth District. Mr. Bryan, according to all reports is working like a Trojan in Nebraska and Tom Johnson is puncturing the tires of Uncle Hanna's "Stand pat" juggernaut in Ohio. For many years there has not been such an exhibition of democratic harmony and the results are bound to be gratifying.

That the democrats are doing yeomen's work in New York is clearly shown by the anxiety felt in administration circles over the outcome in that state. The confidential reports which have reached the White House have been of a discouraging character and as a result, Roosevelt will concentrate the administration forces in that state from now on and at least three members of the cabinet will speak there at various points before election day. The refusal of J. Pierpont Morgan to contribute liberally to the republican campaign fund was a bitter and serious disappointment and has resulted not only in the loss of Morgan's usual liberal contribution but of those of a number of wealthy men who take their cue from the Wall street leader. The republicans have been spending money like water with the idea that there was plenty more coming from the same sources and now they are disappointed and on the other hand, the democratic leaders have conserved their financial resources and will have money to spend most liberally during the next ten days. There is no place where money talks more loudly than in New York and while the democrats are working furiously and judiciously in the lower part of the state the reports come in from "up state" "with damnable iteration" that there never was such apathy and that there "is nothing doing."

Another source of gratification to the democrats are the predictions with regard to the President's mes[illegible]. They are that he will state that [illegible] some tariff schedules which [illegible] and will recommend [illegible] the situ[illegible]dicted, [illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] hand, [illegible] public of the [illegible] any tariff legislation inimical [illegible] interests of the trusts and as a result the party is badly divided today and will be still more so in the near future. With this situation in the republican party, Cleveland's strong words on the tariff have had an invigorating effect on the democrats and have brought out a few of the old timers whose influence is considerable and whose contributions to the campaign fund go as far as anyone's. Mr. Cleveland has declared that the party is "face to face with a great opportunity" and that the fall elections are "but the skirmish lines of the great contest of 1904" and the democrats appear to have accepted the statement and are missing no opportunity to strengthen those lines. It is clearly apparent that if the republicans can maintain their present majorities, on the "let well enough alone" and the "stand pat" slogans, the leaders will soon be following up the precedent set with the tariff and telling the people that the trusts like the tariff are a blessing in disguise. Already it is said that the trusts must not be disturbed because it will interfere with the workmen they employ and the same argument has been used in regard to all tariff protected industries, but those same workmen are beginning to appreciate that even to be employed is not an unmixed blessing when the conditions make such high prices for the necessities of life that they are unable to make both ends meet.

Secretary Shaw's persistent advocacy of the Ship Subsidy bill is not likely to make many votes for his party, especially in the west. His contention seems to be that because the government subsidized the transcontinental railroads it should subsidize the transoceanic steamship companies. The difference is so apparent that it must appeal to the most shallow thinker. And too, the record of the government's efforts to help the transcontinental railroads is not one to be proud of. As is always the case when the government turns philanthropist with the peoples' money, it got the worst of it. The close connection between the railway interests and those of Morgan's big shipping combine are well known. In fact they were exploited to English investors to induce the investment of capital in the shipping trust, and it is apparent that after fighting an isthmian canal to the bitter end, and at last being defeated, the railroads intend to forestall water competition by monopolizing the water transportation facilities. It is for help for this monoply that Shaw is appealing.

A preacher in a neighboring town got all the women at a recent meeting to remove their hats, and had no difficulty about it. He simply said: "Will all those ladies wearing $15 hats please remove them as those behind cannot see. Those who are wearing fifty-cent hats need not bother." It is needless to say that every hat in the house came off without further suggestion.

From present indications the favorite dish with many families of pork and beans will cost much more this coming winter than for many years past. The cause of this is an advance of about $4 a bushel to $2.60 and $2.75 a bushel. These quotations are for fancy hand picked stocks, and dealers in Baltimore say that the maximum price is generally demanded for present orders, and growers seem to look for still higher prices.

BRILLIANT WEDDINGS.

One at St. Luke's Chapel, Queenstown, the other at Annapolis.

One of the prettiest weddings ever solemnized in Queenstown was that of Mr. Clarence Clairveaux Waller, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Queen Anne's Railroad, and Miss Ida Belle Thompson, niece and adopted daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. Kennedy Carroll. The ceremony which took place at four o'clock P. M., in St. Luke's P. E. Church, was performed by Rev. Algernon Batte.

The church was elaborately decorated with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. To the strains of "Lohengrin's Wedding March" played by Professor Derr, of Baltimore, the bride entered with her uncle, Dr. W. K. Carroll, by whom she was given away. She wore an exquisite creation of white panne crepe and duchess lace, a veil of tulle caught with a diamond pin and carried a bouquet of bride roses and a prayer book, bound in ivory from which the service was read. Under a lovely arch of myrtle, erected at the chancel steps, the groom received the bride, attended by Mr. Cleveland White, of Salisbury, as best man, where the betrothal service was read, the old English custom being observed, and then to the chancel rail, where the ceremony was concluded. The maid of honor, Miss Edna Kurtz, of Baltimore, was beautifully gowned in white crepe de chine and carried a cluster of pink chrysanthemums. The ushers were: H. D. Stanford and James Wilson, of Princess Anne; Summerfield Tilghman, of Centreville; Dr. C. F. Davidson, of Easton; Dr. W. H. Smith and F. H. Smith, of Baltimore.

A reception to the bridal party and intimate friends of both families was held immediately after the wedding at "Cedar Grove," one of the handsomest residences on the Eastern Shore, which was beautifully decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. The color effect of the drawing rooms was pink and that of the dining room red. Caterer Harris, of Baltimore, had charge of the latter. The center piece of the artistically arranged table was of American Beauty roses and, that of the one at which the bridal party sat, was of bride roses.

Among those present were. Dr. and Mrs. W. Kennedy Carroll, of Queenstown. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and Miss Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Timanus, Mrs. F. A. Timanus and Miss Timanus, Mr. Scherzerhorn, Mr. Paul Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Beyer, Miss Marguerite Easter, all of Baltimore. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Waller, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stanford, of Princess Anne; Miss Wilmor, Mr. James Wilmor and Mr. Cleveland White, of Salisbury; Miss Emily Richard, Miss Morrow, of Hebbertown; Dr. and Mrs. Davidson and Miss Pauline Adams, of Easton; Miss Eunice Worner, of Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Miss Helen Jolliffe, of Onancock, Va.; Miss Hannah Ware, of Massey, Md.; Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. O. Tilghman Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson, Rev. and Mrs. A. Batte, Mrs. Lyman Richardson, Misses Susan Williams, Edith Hopkins, Daisy C. McConnor, Lily Davidson, Ella Mitchell, Drs. William H. DeCourcey and Charles Cockey, of Queenstown.

The bridal party left on a special train for an extended trip. Upon reaching Baltimore a supper was tendered the bridal party at the Carrollton. They will be at home, "Cedar Grove," after December 1.

TURPIN—WAINWRIGHT.

Miss Louise Wainwright, daughter of Commander Richard Wainwright, superintendent of the United States Naval Academy, was married Tuesday afternoon to Lieut. Walter Stevens Turpin, United States Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. P. Turpin, of Centreville, who is now attached to the battleship Indiana, of the North Atlantic Squadron. The wedding took place at 2 o'clock at the superintendent's mansion.

The wedding was simple and beautiful. The ceremony was performed in the west parlor, which was beautifully decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums, together with palms and potted plants. In front the mantel was an arch of chrysanthemums and under this the ceremony was performed by Rev. H. H. Clark, chaplain of the Naval Academy. The halls and other rooms of the house were also decorated with flowers, palms and plants. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by the Naval Academy Orchestra under Prof. Zimmerman.

The bride's only attendant was her maid of honor, Miss Pegram, of Richmond, and the groom's best man was Past Midshipman Wainwright, Jr., a brother of the bride. During the ceremony the orchestra played "Evening Star," a song from "Tannhauser" and after the ceremony, Mendelssohn's wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream." The bride's gown was of etamine and old lace, made very simple. She carried a bunch of violets. Miss Pegram, the maid of honor, was gowned in white chiffon over silk. She wore a large white picture hat, with white plumes and carried American Beauty roses. The groom, his best man and Superintendent Wainwright wore the special full dress of their respective ranks. After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served by Demonet, of Washington.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

[From the Atchison, Kan., Daily Globe.]

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by B. E. Cockey & Co.

[illegible]ained a Hot Stove.

A child of Mrs. George T. Benson when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Kellar, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for bruises, burns, cuts and sprains. For sale by B. E. Cockey & Co.

ELLEGOOD SPEAKS.

Philemon B. Hopper Opened and Addressed the Mass-Meeting on Tuesday.

A rousing Democratic mass-meeting was held in the courthouse, Centreville, Tuesday afternoon. Representative men from all parts of the county went in spite of the inclement weather in the early part of the day. One notable thing was the presence of many independent voters.

The meeting was called to order a few minutes after 2 o'clock by Hon. Philemon B. Hopper who addressed the meeting on the national issues, stating that in no off year in the history of the country were the issues of more importance than this year. He dwelt upon the Philippine policy and the recent coal strike. He said that his sympathies have always been entirely with the miners against the operators. In conclusion he stated that all of the national issues were unimportant in comparison with the principal issue in this district—the manhood against the dollar.

Mr. Ellegood spoke at length. Before he commenced to dwell upon the issues of the day he stated it would have given him far greater pleasure to have stood where he was and advocated the election to Congress of the chairman of the meeting than he would get from espousing his own cause.

Mr. Ellegood said in part: "The Democratic candidate find himself compelled by the action of his Republican competitor to make the issue of a pure ballot, honest elections and fair play in politics the controlling issue in this campaign. It would have caused me much less personal embarassment to have had to discuss only the questions affecting the country's national welfare, instead of that which touches the very vitals of our free institutions.

"The fundamental doctrine of our Government is the political equality of the individual voter by which means we ascertain the will of the people, commonly expressed by the words 'the majority must rule,' and the kindred doctrine is that 'all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.' Public sentiment is a mighty power in our country, but we crystallize it when we appeal to the ballot, hence the value of a vote is thus estimated. It involves the right of self-government in all matters political and also the government of each man, woman and child in the country. There is no such thing as getting out of the domain of politics. If the body of the electorate be corrupt, then legislation will be of a like nature. If the rich among the people become spendthrifts, extravagant and indifferent, then legislation will be of the same character.

"It is manifest that if a candidate is permitted to use his wealth to corrupt the votere, that is, in the language of the Constitution, directly or indirectly give or promise a reward of money or any other thing to induce a voter to refrain from voting or to cast his vote, then he has corruptly multiplied his political power not only over his competitor, who is either unable or unwilling to compete with him, but he has multiplied it manifold above every other citizen who casts but one vote. Hence the value of a vote is measured not in dollars, nor by material property, but by the security and protection given to 'life, liberty and pursuit of happiness' of the whole community and of each man, woman and child thereof."

Hon. Joshua Miles and Mr. S. S. Field were announced to speak at this meeting, but the former was prevented from coming by a pressing engagement, and the latter missed the boat.

The Gunning Season.

The hunting season for partridges and rabbits opens November 15. The game wardens and farmers in the county say that partridges and rabbits are more plentiful this season than they have been for a number of years and that the birds are large and seem to be in fine condition. A majority of the farmers throughout the county, especially those near the towns and villages, have advertised their places against trespassers with dog or gun. This has been done principally to keep the small boys away who are not particular as to whether they kill sheep, hogs, chicken or anything else, also to keep persons who gan for market and not for the sport from killing up all the birds in a covey in a single afternoon.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by B. E. Cockey & Co.'s druggists. Only 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

Will Investigate.

A remarkable case comes to light at Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there by name of G. W. Roberts had long suffered with incurable cancer. Everybody believed his case hopeless until he used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The treatment cured him completely. Now everybody who knows of it is investigating Electric Bitters. It exerts mighty power to expel biliousness, kidney and liver troubles and it's a wonderful tonic for run down systems. Don't fail to try it. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by B. E. Cockey & Co.

Miss Eva Beecher is the guest of relatives in Winchester.

Miss Erma Scott spent several days in Baltimore last week.

Mr. John Eiser left last week to accept a position in Baltimore.

Mrs Blanchard Emory left last week for Baltimore where she will remain until next spring.

Mrs. Frederick I. Scott, of Lewes, Del., spent several days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Thompson.

Miss Sallie Jones, after a lengthy visit to Miss Jennie Murphy, of Roe, returned home, Sunday. Miss Jones, while passing by the stove one day last week was badly scalded on her arms by hot coffee.

Rev. Walter B. Stehl, rector of Trinity P. E. Church, Shepherdstown, Va., who recently received a call from St. Paul's Parish, Centreville, has decided to accept the call and will enter his new field December 1st.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Ida May, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Macfarlan, Wye Mills, to Mr. William Morris, son of Rev. C. K. Morris, of Rock Hall, Wednesday afternoon, November 5th, at two o'clock in the M. E. Church at Wye Mills.

The marriage of Mr. Joseph M. Parvis, clerk to the Board of County Commissioners, and Miss Mazie Harley, daughter of Mrs. Barbara Harley, is announced to take place at St. Paul's P. E. Church, Centreville on Thursday, November 20th, at 8 o'clock A. M. They will take the morning train for Baltimore over the Queen Anne's Railroad for a wedding tour.

Mr. Isaac W. Troxel, who several weeks ago resigned as general manager of the Queen Anne's Railroad, will leave to-day. Mr. Troxel was chief engineer when the road was built and, months before the road was completed, was appointed general manager, which position he has filled with great credit to himself and profit to the company. He, by his quiet and affable manner, made many warm friends and, those in his employ, speak in the highest terms of him and to show their esteem will present him with a handsome engraved gold watch. The people of Queenstown will never forget his charitableness during the blizzard a few years ago, when he sent his employees to look after the poor and, if they were in want of food or fuel he saw that they were amply provided. We, with the rest of the community, regret to see him leave. After a few months' rest he will accept a more lucrative position and we wish him success.

His successor, Mr. Wm. D. Uhler, is too well known to need any introduction to our people, as he has been associated with Mr. Troxel as surveyor and general freight and passenger agent respectively, and together they have worked as a unit and, today the Queen Anne's Railroad is in a flourishing condition due to their indefatigable labors.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Thursday, November 27 Appointed by the President.—Reasons for Thanks.

President Roosevelt on Wednesday issued his proclamation designating Thursday, November 27, as a day of thanksgiving. The proclamation is as follows:

"According to the yearly custom of our people, it falls upon the president at this season to appoint a day of festival and thanksgiving to God.

"Over a century and a quarter has passed since this country took its place among the nations of the earth, and during that time we have had on the whole more to be thankful for than has fallen to the lot of any other people. Generation after generation has grown to manhood and passed away. Each has had to bear its peculiar burdens, each to face its special crisis, and each has known years of grim trial, when the country was menaced by malice, domestic or foreign levy, when the hand of the Lord was heavy upon it in drouth or flood or pestilence, when in bodily distress and anguish of soul it paid the penalty of folly and a froward heart. Nevertheless, decade by decade we have struggled onward and upward; we now abundantly enjoy material well-being, and under the favor of the Most High we are striving earnestly to achieve moral and spiritual uplifting. The year that has just closed has been one of peace and of overflowing plenty. Rarely has any people enjoyed greater prosperity than we are now enjoying. For this we render heartfelt and solemn thanks to the Giver of good; and we seek to praise Him not by words only, but by deeds, by the way in which we do our duty to ourselves and to our fellow-men.

"Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving Thursday, the twenty-seventh of the coming of November, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from their ordinary occupation and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks unto Almighty God for the manifold blessings of the past year.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington this 29th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and two and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-seventh.

How to Vote.

Hon. Murray Vandiver, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, of Maryland, has issued a letter of instructions to voters for their guidance at the coming election. Mr. Vandiver lays especial stress upon the necessity of the crosss mark being made within the square opposite the name of the Democratic candidate. As only one office is to be filled at this election the X mark is to be placed in only one square, the one to the right of the name of the Democratic candidate. Only one X mark is to be placed within the square and voters are cautioned not to make any mark on the ballot whatever in addition to the necessary X mark, as any mark or marks of any description will cause the ballot to be rejected. If a ballot is defaced it can be returned and another one secured, but only three ballots and seven minutes to vote in will be allowed each voter. One direction which the busy man should keep well before his mind is that the pencil used must be the indelible pencil to be found within the booth and not his own. A number of other directions of value to the voter are also given and we advise everyone to read Mr. Vandiver's letter which was published in this paper last week. Remember to put your X mark entirely within the square opposite the name of Hon. James E. Ellegood.

A Weak Stomach

Indigestion is often caused by overeating. An eminent authority says the harm done thus exceeds that from the excessive use of alcohol. Eat all the good food you want but don't overload the stomach. A weak stomach may refuse to digest what you eat. Then you need a good digestant like Kodol, which digests your food without the stomach's aid. This rest and the wholesome tonics Kodol contains soon restore health. Dieting unnecessary. Kodol quickly relieves the feeling of fulness and bloating from which some people suffer after meals. Absolutely cures indigestion.

Kodol Nature's Tonic.

Prepared only by E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2½ times the 50c. size.
