

The annual Laws from the several States of the Union, have been received as usual; also the Laws of the United States, and Congressional Documents; and three Copies of American Archives: consisting of a rich collection of Authentic Records and State papers; forming a Documentary History of the origin, and progress of the North American Colonies &c : in 1774 and 1775, being a part of that great National work.

The Library has been augmented the past year from the above mentioned resources, by the receipt of five hundred and eighty seven volumes of good and useful Books.

All which is respectfully submitted.

D. RIDGELY, Librarian.