

OF DECORUM, DEBATE, &c.

8th.

Every member shall take his seat when the Speaker takes the chair, and when the House adjourns, every member shall remain in his place until the Speaker go forth.

9th.

No member shall absent himself from the service of the House, unless he have leave, or be sick and unable to attend.

10th.

When a member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the House, he shall rise from his seat uncovered, and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker,"—he shall confine himself to the question under debate; shall avoid personality; and shall use some other distinction than the proper name of any other member to whom he may refer in debate.

11th.

If two or more members shall rise to speak at the same time, the Speaker shall determine which shall speak first, and no member shall speak more than twice to the same question, nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

12th.

If any member shall, in any manner, transgress the rule of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may call to order, in which case the members so called to order, shall immediately sit down unless permitted to explain; and the House shall, if appealed to, decide on the case, but without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the chair shall be submitted to; if the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed if otherwise he shall not be permitted to proceed without leave of the House, and if the case require it, he shall be liable to the censure of the House.

13th.

No member shall vote on any question in the result of which he is immediately and particularly interested, nor in any case where he was not present when the question was put; and upon
