Which amendment was read and agreed to.

Also the following resolution:

By THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES, MAY 26, 1787.

Whereas the general assembly, at this present session, have directed, that the emissions of June, seventeen hundred and eighty, called State and Continental State Money, should be received in payment of all taxes, not appropriated to congress: And whereas the bonds given for property sold, payable in specie only, and on which bonds the money was due before the first January, 1786, were pledged by the consolidating act for the redemption of said emissions; and this general assembly have thought proper to grant further indulgence to the said debtors; RESOLVED, That any executions issued against the said debtors, or any of them, be and is hereby suspended on the interest being paid, and that no further process shall issue against any of them, having paid all the interest due before the end of the next session of assembly, and the said debtors, in the mean time, may pay into the treasury the interest, or any part of the principal, due from them on their bonds aforesaid.

By order,

W. HARWOOD, clk.
