Mr. Wallace, from the house of delegates, delivers to the president the following resolution :

BY THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES, MAY 26, 1787.

RESOLVED, That the interest due from collectors of public taxes, be referred to the consideration of the next general assembly, and that in the mean time the principal only shall be made or exacted on executions against them or their securities.

By order,

W. HARWOOD, clk.

Which was read the first and second time and assented to.

The bill, entitled, An act to appoint an intendant of the revenue, was read the second time by especial order and will not pass.

The following message was prepared, agreed to, and, with the above bill, was sent to the house of delegates by George Gale, Esquire.

BY THE SENATE, MAY 26, 1787.

GENTLEMEN,

THE bill, entitled, An act to appoint an intendant of the revenue, we have returned with a negative, it appearing to us exceptionable in many parts, and being sent from your house at this late hour of the session, we have not time to bestow upon it that consideration which the many important subjects it comprehends necessarily require. We think it advisable to invest the executive with a power to appoint persons to attend the sales and purchase property seized and taken in execution for public dues, and will agree to a resolve for that purpose.

By order,

J. DORSEY, clk.

The resolution respecting state and continental state money, and the resolution respecting the distribution of the laws, were read the second time by especial order and assented to.

The resolution respecting the printer for printing the laws, was read the second time by especial order, dissented to, and, with the above resolutions, and the resolution respecting the interest due from collectors of the public taxes, was sent to the house of delegates by Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, Esquire.

Mr. Digges, from the house of delegates, delivers to the president the following message :

BY THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES, MAY 26, 1787.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOURS,

HAVING finished the business before us, we propose to adjourn to the first day of October next.

By order,

W. HARWOOD, clk.

The following message was prepared, agreed to, and sent to the house of delegates by William Perry, Esquire.

BY THE SENATE, MAY 26, 1787.

GENTLEMEN,

THIS house proposes to adjourn to the first Monday in November next.

By order,

J. DORSEY, clk.

His excellency the governor attending, ORDERED, That George Gale and Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, Esquires, wait on the house of delegates, and inform them, that his excellency the governor is attending in the senate for the purpose of signing and sealing the engrossed bill No. 43, and request their attendance.

The speaker, attended by the members of the house of delegates, appeared in the senate, and the following engrossed bill was presented by the speaker to his excellency the governor, who signed and sealed the same in the presence of both houses, viz.

No. 43. A supplement to the act, entitled, An act respecting surplus lands.

The senate adjourns till the first Monday in November next.

So ends the second session of the third senate of the state of Maryland, this 26th day of May, seventeen hundred and eighty-seven.

Test.

J. DORSEY, clk.
