So it was determined in the negative.

The clerk of the senate delivers the bill to authorise a lottery to raise a sum of money for the use of the German lutheran and presbyterian congregations in or near Boonsborough, in Washington county, endorsed, "will pass." Ordered to be engrossed. Also the bill to empower the executive to purchase arms for the use of the militia of this state, and for other purposes therein mentioned, endorsed, "will pass with the proposed amendments;" which amendments were read, agreed to, and the bill ordered to be engrossed. Also the further additional supplement to the act, entitled, An act to lay out and make a public road from the Black-house, in Harford county, to intersect the Pennsylvania line, endorsed, "will not pass." Also the resolution relative to the road from Hancock to Cumberland, the resolution in favour of John Maloy, and the resolution relative to the inspection of public records, severally endorsed, "dissented from." Also the resolution relative to the penitentiary, endorsed, "assented to." Also a letter from the executive requesting some order as to the deposite and application of the public arms; which was read. And the engrossed bills from No. 44 to 48, inclusive, from No. 50 to 70, inclusive, and No. 74 and 75, severally endorsed, "read and assented to."

The further additional supplement to the act, entitled, An act to provide for the administration of justice in cases of crimes and misdemeanors in the city and county of Baltimore, and for other purposes, was read the second time and passed.

The bill to incorporate the convention of the protestant episcopal church in Maryland, was read the second time, and the question put, Shall the said bill pass? The yeas and nays being required, appeared as follow:
