

that some mode of payment of the subscription already made, should be provided, having reference to the exhausted condition of the treasury, in lieu of the mode of payment provided by the terms of the original subscription."

Mr. Thomas of Cecil, moved to amend the amendment proposed as above by Mr. M'Mahon, by adding at the end thereof, the following words, "proof of which security has not been ascertained to the satisfaction of this general assembly."

And on the question, Will the house agree to amend the amendment, as proposed by Mr. Thomas of Cecil? It was decided in the negative.

The question then recurred and was propounded, Will the house agree to the amendment as proposed by Mr. M'Mahon? It was resolved in the affirmative.

The bill having been read through, and amended as above, the question was propounded, Shall the said bill pass as amended?

The yeas and nays, being required by seven members, were taken, and appeared as follow:
