

By the Senate, March 15, 1828.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

We have received your message, requesting a reconsideration of the bill, entitled, An act for the general valuation and assessment of property in this state, and are compelled to return it to your honourable body without gratifying your request, as there has been no change in the opinion formed by the members of the senate, in relation to the principle, and details of the bill.

By order,

Wm. Kilty, Clk.

On motion by Mr. Semmes, the house proceeded to consider the resolution, submitted by him on the sixth instant, from the committee on ways and means, authorising the treasurer for the western shore, to borrow money, in the name, on the credit, and for the use of the state, for the service of the current year. And the same having been read the second time,

Mr. Semmes moved, That the further consideration of the said resolution be referred to the next general assembly? After considerable debate, the question thereon was propounded. And the yeas and nays, being required by seven members, were taken and appeared as follow;
