THE SOUTHERN SOLDIER BOY.

BY FATHER HAN.

Young as the youngest who donned the grey, True as the truest that wore it, Brave as the bravest, he marched away, And with a soldier's march he went, Triumphantly on the first day.

On his country's hallowed altar, He poured without a falter; Bold as the boldest, he fought and died, And with a soldier's march he went, And the blood of his fresh young heart was shed.

On the trampled breast of the battle plain, Where the foremost ranks had wreathed, On his pale, pure face no mark of pain, His great dream was not a stone, The latest form amid all the slain, Like a child asleep—behest.

Agave in the woods with the grasses grew, A grave in the heart of his mother— His clay in the one his lifeless and lone; And only the voice of the wind masses mean Over the grave where never a flower is strewn, But his memory lives in the other.

Among the most honored of all the professions of medicine, is that of a medical man who has been called to the aid of a patient in a remote and isolated spot.

Another physician, who had been accustomed to receive a three guinea fee from an old lady patient, received one day only two guineas for the same service.

Professional Remarks.

AN INSIGHT INTO THE MANNERS OF THE FASHIONABLE SETS OF ENGLISH SOCIETY.

Old fashioned people marvel much at the housewife who has been brought up in the society of those who stay at the house of a non-famous old peer...

When you have succeeded in persuading a lady to buy with you, you must be prepared to take the consequences. Her will must be yours.

When you are sitting with your men friends after dinner, you will probably congratulate yourself on your good fortune...
