

32 W. BALTIMORE ST., OPP. HANOVER ST.

Heidelberger & Co., Cothiers for the Masses. Under Cost Price Cutters.

We told you before, and we tell you once more, if any thing you buy from us doesn't wear right, come back and get your money.

Bargains in Men's Suits. Men's $10 and $12 Suits. Only $3.49.

Men's $15 Suits, all warranted. Only $5. Men's $18 Custom-Made Suits. Only $7.50.

Men's $25 Suits, Imported. Only $10. Bargains in Overcoats. Men's $10 Overcoats, good ones. Only $3.29.

Men's $15 Overcoats, better ones. Only $4.49. Men's $20 Overcoats, still better. Only $7.50.

Men's $30 Overcoats, the best. Only $10. Bargains in Men's Pants. Men's $1.50 Pants, good ones. Only $1.49c.

Men's All-Wool $2.50 Pants. Only 99c. Men's $1 Worsteds. Only $1.98.

Men's $6 Imported Pants. Only $2.49. Bargains in Boys' Suits. Boys' $2 School Suits. Only 99c.

Boys' $3 Suits, good ones. Only $1.98. Boys' $6 Suits, better ones. Only $2.49.

Bargains in Boys' O'coats. Boys' Overcoats, all-wool. Only $1.69. Boys' $5 Overcoats, Cape or Flannel. Only $2.49.

Boys' $10 Fancy Overcoats. Only $3.50. Miscellaneous Bargains. Boys' Polo Caps, with Double Band. Only 9c.

Boys' Regular Caps. Only 9c. Boys' Knee Pants, 2 Pairs. Only 25c.

Boys' Nice Neck Ties. 2 Pairs for 25c. N. B.—Men's Stiff Hats, 99c.

We challenge the world to duplicate these Bargains, and we're thousands just as big or bigger in the finer grades of Custom-Made Clothing. Bear in mind, our guarantee goes with everything we sell, and we are here to stay, and back it up.

Open every night. Heidelberger & Co., Cothiers for the Masses. 32 W. Baltimore St., Opposite Hanover St., BALTIMORE, MARYLAND.

Women on the School Board. The Baltimore Sun commenting on the movement looking to the placing of women on the School Board in that city very justly and truthfully says:

The movement to admit women to membership in the school board is one which must commend itself as strongly to public sentiment as it does to common sense and common justice.

The experience of other cities has shown that for a most important and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character.

Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

He was a most interesting and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character. Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

He was a most interesting and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character. Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

He was a most interesting and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character. Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

THE LOCAL NEWS FIELD.

The Shut Down of a Mill. Officials of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company have announced that they (Saturday) their flour mill here, known as "Plant No. 1," is to be shut down indefinitely on account of a lack of business.

The mill, about thirty in number, will be paid regular wages, however, until the end of the present month. The establishment has a capacity of between four and five hundred barrels of flour a day, and the pay-roll on account of mill help has been upward of $300 a week.

Their two other mills, at Baltimore and Orange Grove, are being kept up to supply the present demand for flour, is the reason given for the shut down.

In all the complaint about hard times in the country Ellieott City has not heretofore been mentioned as one of the places that has felt the pinch of the shut-down. Most of the men employed in the local mills are leads of families.

The men are not all the men here who will have to seek other means of support, for the cooper shops, which furnish flour barrels for the mill's product, will lose business in turn, but to what extent is not known. It is known that the market for what hauled to the Ellieott City mills by wagon will be maintained as heretofore without interruption.

The mills at Orange Grove and Baltimore are branches of the original mill, which dates its origin four years before the Declaration of Independence, and are modern in all respects, both in construction and machinery. The first mill was built in 1773 by three brothers—Joseph, Andrew and John Ellieott—who had come from Pennsylvania and bought the water rights from the State for one hundred miles up and down the stream. It was completed in two years, and among the pioneering entries in old books of the investor Ellieotts is a sale made in December, 1773, of 200 barrels of flour at seven shillings per barrel. It is stated that that particular brand of flour is produced to this day.

Howard County Snow-bound. There never was a more complete blockade of the roads in Howard county than that which was caused by the snow drifts of last week. A large number of families were shut off from the rest of the world for several days. There was no other alternative than to go to work and cut passages through banks many of which were fence high. About fifty hands were put to work Monday to open the roads, but it was not until Tuesday, at Clarksville and in the evening for the first time since the previous Thursday persons began to travel over the route. The Columbia pike was also cleared from Oakland Mills to Columbia Post-office.

An energetic farmer, residing five miles in the country, walked all the way to Ellieott City yesterday to get a copy of a daily paper, to learn, as he stated, "something about what was going on in the outside world." He said that he had been completely snowbound for four days, and that he had not seen a newspaper, news, even though he was compelled to journey on foot. The mail carrier between here and intermediate points to District No. 1 in the upper section of the county, resumed his regular route for the first time since the blizzard set in on the 14th inst.

Mr. Takaki's Address. The address of Rev. Masayoshi Takaki, of Japan, at Emory M. E. Church Sunday night last was listened to by a good sized audience. The uppermost sentiment in the speaker's mind seemed to be gratitude to what he styled "the good people of America" for introducing Christianity into Japan. Mr. Takaki is a quaint and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

He was a most interesting and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character. Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

He was a most interesting and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character. Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

He was a most interesting and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character. Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

He was a most interesting and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character. Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

He was a most interesting and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character. Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

He was a most interesting and valuable addition to such educational agencies, and that their influence and counsel have been of the most helpful and practical character. Emphatically called by natural constitution and sympathy for such work, their leading representatives are peculiarly well equipped for it at the present day by virtue of the higher and the broader lines of culture and education.

It is a rare occasion when a suspicious looking traveler can pass through Ellieott City without being required to give a satisfactory account of himself. There was a case Thursday, however, in which the long established rule was gladly varied.

In the afternoon when the Ellieott City special arrived from Baltimore a stranger with somewhat of a foreign air, and carrying under his arm a package, called to find out the fare for the station platform. On being questioned as to his business and the contents of the mysterious package, he calmly replied that he was a traveler from Japan.

He had no intention of leaving the city, but he had been invited to give a lecture on the history of the Japanese people, and he was to leave for Japan in a few days.

He was a quiet and simple speaker yet he drew a vivid contrast between those of Japan still in heathen darkness and those converted to Christianity. He compared the heathen world to a blind man, and made to see. By the adoption of the Christian's faith a new world opened to him, and he sincerely hoped that all Japan and all the heathen world would soon see the light.

Local and Miscellaneous.

Mr. Louis T. Clark, who for twelve weeks was confined to the house from the kick of a horse in the face, has completely recovered, is out and attending to business, that of attorney at law. It gives us pleasure to note that Mr. Clark does not seem worse of the accident, which at first was thought to be very serious.

A wild goose, or something similar to a Bird of that species, was captured in the Patuxent river at Ellieott City Thursday. The bird which was alone, flew away and returned several times before falling into the hands of its captors. It is supposed it had become weak and tame through hunger.

A party from Sykesville, Carroll county, representing himself to be a nephew of a prominent citizen succeeded in passing several checks of sums ranging from $10 to $15 on certain unsuspicious business men of our city yesterday, says the Annapolis Evening Capital of Tuesday.

The Oella mills have suffered considerable inconvenience from ice in the race. The mills were compelled to shut down on Friday and Saturday and a large number of hands were engaged Sunday endeavoring to dispose of it. The work was severe and most of those engaged were worn out.

The "Carnival of Nations," which was to have been given by Centre Lodge, No. 40, of Ellieott City, on the 19th inst., has been postponed until April. The officers of the lodge are disappointed in Emory M. E. Church Thursday last has been indefinitely postponed.

Clarksville has another mad-dog scare. Sunday a collie dog, recently bitten by a sign, ran down the street, barking and attacking its owner, Mr. Irwin Ridgely. The animal afterwards bit a number of dogs and hogs before despatching them.

The Baltimore county court has passed a decree dismissing the bill of complaint asking for an injunction in the case of the Frederick Turnpike Company against the city of Frederick, Md., and Ellieott Mills Railroad Company.

The Baltimore News says that "eighty acres of land in the First district of Howard county, near Ellieott's Mills, have been sold to Wm. L. Layfield for $1,000." It was found necessary to clear the land.

Mr. Benjamin Mallonee, of Laurel, has made a clock which is an almanac in itself. It shows in addition to the time of the day, the week, the month, the signs of the zodiac and the phases of the moon.

Eugene Radcliffe, charged with assaulting Mr. Henry Scott, a farmer, near Frederick, was arrested Tuesday, and was fined $10 and costs.

A freight coal car jumping the track at Hallowfield's Friday evening of last week caused a several hours' delay of trains. The "rigger" was found necessary to clear the track.

The Ridgely Brown Camp of Confederate Veterans, of Rockville, held its annual meeting and elected E. J. Chiswell commander and Thomas Griffith adjutant.

Mr. John Hirrold, of Columbia, Howard county, who was stricken with paralysis last fall, and who was believed to be gradually recovering, died on Tuesday, and was buried on Wednesday.

William Gatherer, a few days ago two fine sows and a lot of pigs. It is thought they died from something they had eaten.

William Keith and Edward France, hant while confined to the house, are improving.

Scott Fisher and Samuel Norton of Albemarle, narrowly escaped drowning a few days ago whilst skating on the Patuxent.

The Laurel Mill Company used up from six to eight extra tons of coal daily to prevent a freeze up in their mill.

The snow blockade has caused the postponement of a number of church, musical and social occasions.

The Times acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. W. F. Earn, former editor of the Ellieott City Progress.

The twenty-third annual convention of the Farmers' Union will be held at Sandy Spring on February 19.

The most ardent wish of everybody this week has been a let-up of the weather.

The Citizens' National Bank of Laurel held its regular semi-annual dividend of three per cent.

Mr. J. E. Hartke has moved from his county place at Elkridge to 826 West Fayette street, Baltimore.

The Misses Tyson have returned after several weeks' stay with friends in Washington, D. C.

Miss Thelma Gross, daughter of Mr. John Gross here, was reported quite ill this week.

Gertie, the little daughter of Mr. Ezekiel Hovey, has been quite sick for several weeks.

Feed the birds. "Bacteria do not occur in the blood or in the tissues of a healthy living body, either of man or the lower animals." So says the editor of the Koch. Other doctors say that the best medicine to render the blood perfectly pure and healthy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Distress on Account of Snow Drifts. Considerable distress was experienced in the vicinity of Granite, Baltimore county on account of the snow blockade. Mr. Wm. F. Weller, of Granite, wrote the commissioners saying that the road leading from Granite to Woodstock was impassable on account of snow-drifts and that the family of a Mrs. Duvall, who died several days ago, have been waiting three days to get a casket in sight.

Col. Wm. T. Seward, one of the seven condemned to death by the Hawaiian republic for participation in the recent revolution, is the father of Miss Helen Seward, who attended the Sykesville school of Mr. and Mrs. Weems. Miss Seward was the guest last summer of Mrs. J. B. Morrow, and is quite well.

Funeral of Miss Kate Dall Hodges, whose death occurred here at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

The funeral of Miss Elizabeth Hodges, who died at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

Funeral of Miss Elizabeth Hodges, who died at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

Funeral of Miss Elizabeth Hodges, who died at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

Funeral of Miss Elizabeth Hodges, who died at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

Funeral of Miss Elizabeth Hodges, who died at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

Funeral of Miss Elizabeth Hodges, who died at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

Funeral of Miss Elizabeth Hodges, who died at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

Funeral of Miss Elizabeth Hodges, who died at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

Funeral of Miss Elizabeth Hodges, who died at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Hodges, on Sunday last, was held from St. Peter's P. E. Church Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance, many being friends of the deceased from Baltimore, Laurel and other places.

OBITUARY.

MR. CHARLES L. HARTLEY. Of Ellieott City, who has been connected with the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company for a period of nearly fifty years died at his residence on Sunday night, February 10th, in the 75th year of his age. He deceased seriously ill, after a long illness, which he had experienced a day's sickness in the past few months when heart trouble began to develop. For several weeks he was subject to suffocating spells, so distressing often that he got little sleep, which culminated in his death while sitting in his chair. For many years he held the position of purchasing agent, inspecting and determining the price of all the grain hauled there by farmers from Howard and adjoining counties. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the central prison of the State. The farmers knew him as a man of unerring judgment in such matters as pertained to his business and withal scrupulously honest in all his dealings.

Mr. Hartley was a member of the Society of Friends, being the last trustee of the old Friends' Burying Ground in the city of Ellieott. In that capacity he was the remnant of the pioneer Quakers, who founded this town and gave it a name. Mr. Hartley was buried there with Masonic rites on Wednesday last.

The church which is a square structure, reminding one of the original meeting house of the Puritans, stands on a eminence known as "St. Peter's Hill." It was built by the Friends, calling to mind the prosperous period in which it was erected. It is now owned and enjoyed by the society of Friends in this section.

He was twice married, his first wife being Hester Ann Calk, an Eastern Shore lady, and his second, whom he survived twenty years, was Elizabeth L. Hartley, of the same county. His only child is Miss Emory M. E. Church, wife of Justice John M. Bone, of Baltimore county.

Mr. Hartley was a Royal Arch Mason, Knight of the Order of the Knights of Palestine Masonic Lodge of Catonsville. He belonged to Monumental Commandery and to Druid and Alpha Chapters. He was long a member of Centre Lodge, No. 40, of Ellieott City, and of Jerusalem Encampment, No. 1.

He deceased was born on "Quaker Hill," near Sandy Spring, Md., the daughter of his parents had come from Chester, Pa., in 1806. He began his long service with the mill here August 4, 1845, at that time operated by George C. and George W. Garrison, of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company, after the disastrous flood of 1868, Mr. Hartley was elected a director of the mill, and served ever since in that capacity.

The funeral was largely attended, the many friends of the deceased from afar and near being present to take part in the funeral services. The interment was at St. Peter's P. E. Church, of Ellieott City, conducted the services at the house and in the rear of the burial services were in charge of the Rev. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A. Gambrell Manufacturing Company who had worked under his management.

There were present at the funeral, Mr. J. C. Chiswell, pastor of the church, and the procession was about 50 of the present and former employees of the C. A