Address of Governor Pickens to the South Carolina Volunteers. Washington, April 30 .- The Charleston papers contain an official address of Governor Pickens to the volunteer regiments of South Carolina, in which he says he is informed from high authority that Virginia has adopted the Confederate constitution, and is now virtually a member of the Codfederacy, and adds: "I called for volunteers because I On the 3th ult. ANN, wife of Francis Gallagher, in the 334 | did not consider Virginia under our government, but when I am otherally informed that she has joined our Confederacy, I shall consider her as a part of our country, and that to defend her or Maryland is to defend South Carolina. Whatever troops may be ordered will be still considered volunteers from South Carolina, and as there is no power to lengthen or change the term of service, they are still volunteers from South Carolina for twelve months, and if they leave that State will be under the command of a General in the provisional army of the Confederate States." Governor Pickens exhorts the soldiers of South Carolina as follows: "Let the sons of South Carolina answer the to expose our own State, and shall only march you | beyond our borders under pressing emergency.
