The Adelaide brought up Juseph Seegar, who desires to represent the Eastern Shore of Virginia in the Federal Congress, and leaves for Washington to-day. It will be remembered that this is the individual, who, as a Union member of the Virginia State Convention, is said to have saved Fortress Monroe from the bands of the Confederlates, by giving the Government timely warning of the designs of that Convention. Matters were very dull arout the neighborhood of Old Point, and all was anxiety to hear further from Pickens and Beaufort. The Adelaide brought up quite a number of passengers, all of whom had been to Old Point on business, and among them were some eight or ten officers with orders for the War Department at Washington.
