PRESIDENT TYLER'S ADDRESS.

We issued this address in an extra sheet on Saturday morning last, in a short time after the arrival of the Southern mail, and the avidity with which copies were sought, shewed the anxiety which was felt to become acquainted with the principles upon which the new president intended to administer the government. So far as we have been enabled to collect public sentiment, this address has made a favorable impression. President Tyler is sufficiently explicit upon the several points of policy which he introduces. He expresses anxious solicitude that the army and navy shall be put in a condition "replete with efficiency," so as to be prepared for any event—but assumes as the groundwork of his policy towards foreign powers, "justice on our part to all; submitting to injustice from none." In this position he will be sustained by the American people. In regard to the public money; the restriction of public officers from improper interference with elections; and a rigid economy in expenditures, he takes the ground previously occupied by general Harrison. He refers the currency question and financial matters generally, to the consideration of congress, with the promise, that he will sanction any constitutional measure which congress may adopt to restore the currency and to protect the public funds.

WE DO NOT SEE ANY THING IN THIS ADDRESS TO WHICH THE PRESIDENT'S FRIENDS OR OPPONENTS CAN TAKE JUST EXCEPTION.

BANK OF THE UNITED STATES. We publish an abstract of the veto message of the Governor of Pennsylvania; from which it appears, that whilst he would preclude the citizens of other states from enforcing the extraordinary penalties against the banks of that state, he would continue to the citizens of Pennsylvania the advantages of existing laws. If the Legislature adopt this advice, it will be giving an unjust preference of one creditor over another.

From an examination of the governor's message, we are satisfied that there will be great difficulty in continuing the operations of the Bank of the United States. He thinks the authority given to reduce the capital of the bank unwise and unnecessary in its present form—objects to release the bank from its obligations to make loans to the state—and states that, according to the constitution, the charter of the bank cannot be renewed or extended, unless six months previous notice be given. From these indications we infer, that no law making the proposed alterations in the charter of the Bank of the United States, will receive his sanction. We therefore think it not improbable that the bank will be compelled to wind up its concerns.

BROKE JAIL—Three Prisoners Escaped.—On yesterday morning, about 5 o'clock, three of the prisoners, who were confined in our jail for criminal offences, effected their escape, by breaking through the wall of room No. 4, and getting into the sewer as on former occasions, thereby passing towards the Falls where the final release was obtained by making a hole through the wall and passing out. Their names are George Cordery, Augustus Brown and Abraham Howard. Howard, however, was captured by one of the jail officers soon after his escape, in the neighborhood of Howard street. Cordery and Brown are yet at large. Cordery is rather stout built, has a nose crooking somewhat to the one side, had countenance, dark hair, dark eyes, about five feet eight inches in height and probably 23 or 30 years of age—he is a desperate character. Brown is a thick set, dark hair, dark eyes, rather good looking, about 22 years of age, and also a bird of iniquitous bearing. It is to be hoped these desperate villains will be brought back to justice. They were without much doubt candidates for the penitentiary.

A BANK BURNED.

We learn from a western paper that the Banking house of the Branch Bank of the State Bank of Illinois at Galena, was consumed by fire on the 25th of last month. The fire originated in the Cashier's room.

PEACE WARRANT.

A man named William Woolen was taken before Justice Miltenberger on Saturday last, charged by Sarah A. Hortsman and Eliza J. Jones, a grass widow, with threatening violence upon them. It appeared that the two females in question occupied a house in Burgundy alley, near Paca street, and that in their regular routine of scolding, talking, &c., they made some noise which neighbor Woolen did not like. He therefore stated he would have them rowled, if not by fair means, by foul. The females also threatened an action for defamation of character, stating that Woolen had put reports in circulation about them derogatory to their characters. They plead their own cause like Trojans. They each stated that they had been, decent and genteel beaux, and that they would not be without a beau upon any account. The grass widow stated that she had gotten a divorce and turned her husband off, because she didn't like him, but that she guessed she had as good a right as any one else to have another beau, and if he didn't behave himself she would give him his "walking papers" too. She thought it a hard case that females, whether grass widows or not, should be prohibited from having their lovers, merely because they lived in another person's house. As for herself, come what may, she wouldn't be twenty-four hours without a beau if one could be had. Thus ended the speech.—Mr. Woolen was held in security to keep the peace.

CITY COURT.

Saturday, April 10th, 1841.—John Torrick, the U. S. dragoon, charged with assaulting police officer McDonald, of the second ward, on the night of the 6th inst. with sword in hand, was brought before the Court this morning. Officer McDonald testified to the facts of the outrage substantially as heretofore given, whereupon the Court directed that the prisoner be bound over, in order that the affair might receive the proper investigation before the Grand Jury at the June term.

WILLIAM BALL WAS TRIED FOR ASSAULTING THOMAS HOPKINS.

at the corner of Bond and Thames sts., and fined $10 and costs.

JOHN NOEL, A GERMAN, WAS TRIED FOR BEATING HIS WIFE, AND FOUND NOT GUILTY.

John Williams, imprisoned some days for a similar offence, was discharged by Justice Blair.

SEVERAL CASES OF ASSAULT WERE POSTPONED TO THE NEXT SITTING OF THE COURT.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER.

The Mobile Register of the 29th ult. says—On Saturday night about 9 o'clock, Mr. W. H. Hull, of the firm of L. Hull & Son, of this city, while riding on the Spring Hill road, three and a half miles from the city, was fired at by a man on the outside. The assassin fired at the distance of ten or twelve paces, just as he was opposite to him, and the ball struck the bridle arm, midway between the shoulder and elbow, and glanced across his breast in front. The position of the arm in holding the bridle, alone, providentially saved his life, for if the arm had been down in its natural position, the shot would have entered the body in its most vital part. A night was dark, and Mr. H. saw the figure of the man and the flash of the pistol, and being unarmed, expecting another fire, and apprehending from the concussion, that he was badly hurt, he fled to the next house.

AN EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY.

A French paper publishes a letter from Italy, of the 4th of March, stating that the city of Reggio, in Calabria, was nearly destroyed by an earthquake on the 22d of February. The shocks were fifteen in number, the street of the Marine was converted into one heap of ruins, most of the houses were thrown down, and the rest were so damaged as to be altogether uninhabited; the palace of the governor, the tribunal, the prison, the barrack of St. Augustine, the cathedral, five other churches, and various other public buildings, were entirely destroyed. The inhabitants had sought refuge partly at Messina and partly at Naples.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S ESTATE.

The correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says General Harrison's expenditures connected with his removal to this city, and a month's occupation of the Executive mansion, were enormous; so much, indeed, as to leave his family in a very embarrassed condition. The expenses of the household were very great, there being a continual crowd of company, all of whom were entertained in the most liberal and hospitable manner. Under these circumstances, it is hoped that Congress will see fit to grant his family his salary, at least to the end of the first year of his term. This is no more than what the Senate has done in reference to one of their own officers.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

In another column will be found an account of the preparatory arrangements made in Philadelphia, for a procession in that city on to-morrow, "to pay honor to the memory of the departed William Henry Harrison, late President of the United States."

WE ALSO PUBLISH THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE MINISTERS AND ELDERS CONNECTED WITH THE PRESBYTERY OF PHILADELPHIA—AND OF THE CORPORATION OF THE GERMAN REFORMED CHURCH.

JOHN BEKLE'S Sleigh Ride, Courtship and Marriage. Messrs. Cushing & Brother have sent us a copy of this small volume. It is an amusing work of the Jack Downing order, and was originally published in a Portland paper in numbers. It is attributed to Capt. McClintock, of the U. S. Army.

ROOKWOOD.

To-night the splendid equestrian drama of Rookwood is to be brought out at the Front street Theatre. As every body almost in Baltimore talks of going, we shall do ourselves the pleasure likewise; and if pleased do ourself from representation we cannot be otherwise, shall make it known upon some future occasion. Persons wishing to secure good seats should go early.

GENERAL HARRISON'S FAMILY.

The following relatives of Gen. HARRISON were present in the city on the day of the funeral, viz:—Mrs. Jane Harrison, of Ohio, (son's widow,) and two sons. Mrs. Taylor, of Virginia, (niece,) a daughter and two sons. Pike Harrison, (grandson,) son of J. C. S. Harrison, and grandson of Gen. Pike. Mr. D. O. Cooperland, of Ohio, (nephew.) Mr. Benjamin Harrison, of Berkeley, Va. (nephew.) Henry Harrison, (grand-nephew,) son of the preceding, who has acted as confidential Secretary of the President. Dr. John Minge, of Charles city, Va. (nephew.)

We may also add the name of Mrs. Findlay, of Ohio, who adopted Mrs. Jane Harrison as a daughter, and who almost invariably occupied the right hand of the President at his table.

The following are the surviving relations who were absent:

Mrs. Harrison, the General's bereaved widow. John Scott Harrison, the only living son. Mrs. Judge Short, eldest daughter. Mrs. Dr. Thornton, daughter. Mrs. Taylor, daughter. All these are living at or near North Bend.

Mr. Taylor and his wife and family were expected to become members of the President's family for the whole term of his service.

The following are the names of the deceased members of the family:

Lucy Harrison, a daughter, married Judge Este. J. C. S. Harrison, a son, Married Miss Pike. Both dead.

Wm. H. Harrison, Jr. married Miss Jane Irwin. His widow presided at the President's table, and her personal graces have commended her to the affections of all who have had the pleasure to know her.

Dr. Benjamin Harrison, a son. Died the last summer.

Carter B. Harrison, a son, who was a lawyer of fine talents, and accompanied Gen. Harrison to Colombia. Died two years ago. All of the sons left children.—Madisonian.

PHENOMENON.

The letter from an officer on the board the Preble, dated "River Tagus, off Lisbon, Feb. 15th, 1841," from which we were permitted to make an extract for Saturday's paper, contains the following item, which we publish for the information of those who may be pleased to trace the cause of the phenomenon mentioned. The writer says, "we entered this place on Friday in moderate weather, and had scarcely got our anchor down before it began to rain and puff in squalls, and by midnight it was blowing heavily, and the rain descended in torrents. Now, Monday morning, it still continues without any appearance of its holding up. The country is said to be inundated, and the water alongside, and within three miles of the bar, (which is about 12 miles below the city,) is perfectly fresh, a thing not known before to the oldest inhabitants."

LATEST FROM FLORIDA.

By the Charleston Transcript of the 6th instant, we have the following:—

"St. Augustine, April 1.

"By the arrival yesterday of the steamer De Rosset, from Tampa Bay, we learn that "Wild Cat" has come in, and brought his warriors with him, and has gone out again after Sam Jones, to try and induce him to come in.

"A letter received here from an officer of the army at Tampa, expresses the opinion that there will be no further success by the Indians in Florida. God grant that it may prove correct; but we can scarcely rely upon it as yet. The shipment of from two to three hundred Indians is confirmed."

MONEY FOUND.

The Rochester Advocate of the 24th ult. states that the money lost sometime since at Auburn, by Mr. Arnold of Chautauque county, some $11,000, has been found at Auburn under the steps of the Presbyterian Church, as also the $8 or $10,000 lost at the same time, by the Cashier of the Bank of Orleans, and 3 or $4,000 by Mr. Wilkie, formerly of Brockport. The person who had charge of the baggage car, in connection with the one who took tickets, abstracted the several sums of money and hid them as above stated. The baggage man confessed to the theft and the money was recovered—in amount about $25,000.

BADGE OF MOURNING.

The ladies of New York have adopted a neat and appropriate badge of mourning. It consists of a slip of black crape, tied in a knot, and worn on the left wrist. This strikes us forcibly as being a very unique and beautiful emblem of sorrow. We suggest that the ladies of this city adopt it without further ceremony.

We learn from the Norfolk Beacon that Drake, the murderer of Mr. James Scott and family, in Southampton county, some few months since, was tried on Friday of last week, and the case given to the jury in the evening of that day, who after an absence of ten minutes, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

Our exchange papers thus far, without a single exception, have come to us with their columns dressed in mourning for the lamented death of our late venerated President. This is a very simple in appearance, shows a universal manifestation of high-toned regard for the virtues of the departed hero.

The true name of Williamson, the great Boston burglar, turns out to be James Webb. He has been implicated in three indictments for burglaries in that city. Constable Clapp has also been indicted by the grand jury, for his tampering with the rascal.

MOST MELANCHOLY. A Mrs. Henry Knapp and her sister of N. York, when crossing at the ferry in a boat from Hoboken on the evening of the 9th, inst. fell from the boat into the water, through the carelessness of the boatman, when the young lady found a watery grave. Mrs. Knapp, was through much difficulty rescued.

SUICIDES. On Monday evening last, says the York Press, a son of Mr. William Dick, of Shrewsbury township, not more than twelve years of age, committed suicide by hanging himself. A slight whipping given him by his father, is said to have been the cause of this act.

BALTIMORE TYPOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY.

At a Special Meeting of the Baltimore Typographical Society, held on SATURDAY EVENING, 10th inst., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted unanimously:

WHEREAS, It has pleased an all-wise Providence to remove from the people, and from the exalted seat to which their confidence had but recently elevated him, WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON, late President of the United States—who expired at the city of Washington, on the morning of April 4th, 1841—by which mournful dispensation the citizens of the Republic are overwhelmed with affliction: And, WHEREAS, the Baltimore Typographical Society, unfeignedly participating in the general bereavement, and sincerely desirous of bearing testimony to the distinguished military and civil services, as well as private virtues of the deceased—Therefore

Resolved, That this Society, in union with the feelings that surround us, entertain the most profound and heartfelt sorrow for the mournful calamity which has overspread the Republic, in the death of our late illustrious President, WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON.

Resolved, That the noble ambition to "serve his country," which, for a period of nearly half a century, successfully distinguished our departed National Benefactor, has won for him a name that will endure as long as the love of constitutional Liberty shall abide in the breast of man.

Resolved, That the examples of incorruptible integrity, exalted patriotism, and Christian benevolence, so pre-eminently characteristic of the life of our late President—evidenced in the service of the nation and in the rural shades of domestic retirement—are worthy the grateful remembrance and the emulation of his countrymen.

Resolved, That we tender our humble condolence to the bereaved and sorrow-stricken family of the deceased, who, in this day and this hour of their calamity, are alone sustained by the consciousness that the spirit of their illustrious friend has realized, in exchange for earth, a Heavenly immortality.

Resolved, That this Society will cordially unite with other associations of their fellow citizens, for the purpose of devising further public demonstrations of sorrow for the death, and respect for the memory, of our late beloved Chief Magistrate.

Resolved, That Messrs. R. B. Gallop, Fred'k. Young, J. W. Percey, H. D. Peak, and G. E. Taylor, be appointed a committee on the part of this Society, to co-operate with such other committees as may be appointed on the part of other Associations, in carrying into effect the objects contemplated in the preceding resolution.

Resolved, That the Hall and Banner of the Society be hung in the customary badge of mourning for a period of sixty days, and that crape be worn on the left arm of the members during the same period.

Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings, signed by the Officers of this Society, be transmitted to the family of our late virtuous Chief Magistrate, as a brief evidence of our sympathy;—but we cannot obtrude upon the afflicted the language of overflowing hearts, when the eloquence of grief is silence.

JOSEPH SMITH, President. THOMAS D. SUTZER, Secretary.

MONS. ALEX. VATTENARE is now in Boston, promulgating his system of international exchange.

By the way, what has been done with the extensive resolutions passed in this city last fall in reference to the gentleman's great enterprise.

It is stated in the New York Sun that the British Queen will take out the largest mail of letters and papers to Europe the present voyage that has ever been taken by any steamer.

We have a rumor that Mr. N. Biddle is preparing an address to the public, in relation to the affairs of the United States Bank.

The alarm of fire about 2 o'clock on Saturday morning, was caused by the burning of a carpenter shop on North Calvert st. near the public fountain.

A Shrewsbury gentleman named Chester Powers put an end to his life in New York on the 5th inst.

WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON, late President of the United States.
