National Union Nominations.

FOR PRESIDENT:

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, of Illinois.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT:

ANDREW JOHNSON, of Tennessee.

NOMINATION OF McCLELLAN.

"THE MOUNTAIN WAS IN LABOR—AND BROUGHT FORTH A MOUSE."

The Chicago Convention, whose advent had been looked for so long, and with so much anxiety by the Copperheads and opponents of Lincoln and the war, has consummated its work by the nomination of Gen. McClellan as their candidate for the Presidency—thus at one blow dissipating all the fond hopes of the "peace" party, if placing on the course a man who could test before the country the truthfulness of their assertions, that the people of the United States were in favor of a peace upon other terms than the preservation of the Union.

In the nomination of Gen. McClellan, the opposition have ignored every principle for which the great body of the party opposed to Mr. Lincoln have relied upon to displace him and his administration from power, and have trampled under foot the so-called State's Rights doctrine for which they have so earnestly contended, of the right of a State to secede. This question was plainly put before the Convention by Mr. Long, a peace man of Ohio, and declared by the President as out of order, and if it had not been thus ignored so promptly, the candidate whom they have nominated, had committed himself so fully against it, as well as so decidedly in favor of the continuation of the war until the unity of the nation was again perfected by the power of arms, as to have made the dogma out of place, even if it had been adopted, in a platform upon which Gen. McClellan had to stand. His late West Point speech had so fully committed him upon these points, that they are obliged to be accepted now as a portion of the doctrines of the Democratic party. So far, Gen. McClellan and Mr. Lincoln agree.

But the great bug-bear with which the leaders of the opposition expected to frighten the innocent people of this country out of their wits, was, that their liberties were in danger, in consequence of the arbitrary arrests made by Mr. Lincoln—and behold! the Convention, if they had hunted throughout the whole country, could not have picked out a man more obnoxious to the charge than is General McClellan! Others were satisfied with here and there picking up a noisy traitor, whilst engaged in belching forth his noisome abuse of his country and its Government—but McClellan went in for a more comprehensive game—he, the chosen leader of the "States Rights Democracy," seized upon the majority of the Legislature of a "sovereign State," in Maryland, and so anxious was he that by no possibility should they escape, or try to exercise the privilege of the habeas corpus, of which we have heard so much against Mr. Lincoln, that he gave the most special and positive orders to his subordinates, to have a steamboat in readiness to waft them off to Yankee land, to the dungeon there prepared for all such—and so anxious was he upon the subject, that he added in a most emphatic manner, that they should see to it that "none of them shall escape!"

The draft, too, is a high crime in the eyes of the opposition against Mr. Lincoln, and many have been the crocodile tears shed by the copperheads, who were neither for volunteering nor drafting, at the tyranny of the President in dragging poor men into the army by means of the draft; the same hypocrites could apologize for Jeff. Davis' mercilessness conscription, in forcing every one able to lift a gun, from the tenderest youth to the hoary headed old man, but their indignation knew no bounds when President Lincoln called for a draft of one out of every dozen or so, to aid him in protecting and defending the unity of the country from a ruthless band of rebels and traitors, who were steeped in perjury and robbery of the nation's property; and yet, while Mr. Lincoln was hesitating about availing himself of this power entrusted to him by the Constitution and laws of the country, it was General McClellan that first urged upon him the adoption of the measure at a much earlier date than that at which it was determined on.

In fact, every point in the contest upon which the opposition have relied to use the weapons of their warfare against Mr. Lincoln, they have virtually thrown away by the nomination of Gen. McClellan! It is our candid opinion that the Convention could not have presented a more vulnerable candidate for the shafts of the friends of the Administration, than they have done. He can receive no favor or cordial support from the out-and-out Peace men of the Wood and Vallandigham stamp, for the wind has been taken out of their sails by the nomination of a man who owes whatever notoriety he has to the war.—They have contended that it was a horrible crime and violation of the Constitution to recognize negroes, and yet they are called upon to [illegible] to one who for years [illegible] attitude at the head of "Abolition Lincolnites," in killing their dear brethren at the South. The real War Democrats are the supporters of Mr. Lincoln and his Administration, and in council and in action have announced their determination to support him for re-election, in order that he may finish up his work. But the War Democrats of the Seymour stamp exposed the cloven foot too plainly in the elections of 1862, to permit the people to trust them again, or to put any faith in their assertions of being desirous of conducting the war with vigor.

The whole question resolves itself, then, into a controversy for the spoils. If it were possible for his election, the friends of McClellan would be ready for any course. If they could make more out of a peace than they were likely to do out of the continuance of the war, they will go in for peace. But as recently intimated by a Richmond rebel paper, the probabilities are, if they obtained the power, they would be apt to continue the war four years longer for the sake of enjoying the fat jobs and contracts, for which their mouths have been watering during the whole of the war, and from which they were measurably denied a participation.

We hope none of our readers will fail to read the account we have published of the proceedings in the Convention. They are rich and especially interesting to every Marylander.

HORACE GREELY.—The Agent for the publishers, Lieut. J. L. Topham, is now in this city soliciting subscribers for the History of the War, compiled by Horace Greely, Esq., editor of the New York Tribune, one volume of which is already published, and exhibited by the Agent. We have on a former occasion alluded to this work and its author, and will repeat the convictions of our mind upon both—that the history will be found one of the most reliable of the war that will ever be published. No man is better qualified for such a duty than Horace Greely. His talents and research are broad, expansive mind, combined with a peculiar capacity for such compilations, is shown in the invaluable Political Register, published annually by him And this can also be said of the author, that however much men may differ with Mr. Greely in some of the peculiar views which he has advocated in times that are past, yet no unbiased mind that has watched his career, as we have done, but will do him the justice to admit the honesty and conscientiousness of the man. We candidly declare that any statement from Mr. Greely upon any subject on which he professes to speak or publish of his own knowledge, has ever been accepted by us with as much confidence as we could possibly extend to any other man in the United States. We hope the gallant young Topham will meet with the most liberal success among our citizens. He has some claims to our kindness and hospitality, as he was severely wounded in the battle of Antietam, fighting in the defence of our Maryland homes, and so disabled as to be obliged to leave the active duties of the field.

By the by, we would congratulate the friends of the President that, although Mr. Lincoln was not the first choice of the Tribune for the next term, the editor being favorable to the one term principle, yet that journal is now going into the contest with all the vigor and effectiveness which has heretofore characterized the powerful mind of its conductor. The editor is a host in himself, and his leader, in Tuesday's Tribune, upon the nomination of McClellan, shows that he has stripped for the contest in right good earnest.

DREADFUL RIOTS IN IRELAND.—The Irish papers by late arrivals furnish the particulars of the dreadful riots in Belfast, to which we alluded some days since. It appears to be the old feud between the Orangemen (most of whom engaged in the riots are workmen in the shipyards) and the Catholic party—and the scenes of outrage had proceeded to such length, as to call forth the interference of the military, who fired on the mob, wounding, in some cases it was said mortally, a number of those engaged in the riots.

MISSISSIPPI.—Gov. Clarke, of Mississippi, has issued a "call to arms," for all the "white males from fifteen to fifty five," who are not already in the Confederate service, to assemble forthwith at places designated by him—this is by virtue of a law of the Legislature passed the day before. Parties, with few exceptions, before exempted, are called upon to come forward. The next call, we suppose, will be for the babies of three years old and up to fifteen.

A GOOD WINE NEEDS NO PUFF.—Calling on a friend of ours of the American Legation, the other day, he invited us to a glass of wine. We complimented his taste in the choice of so rich a port, but were somewhat astonished when he assured us that it was an American vintage called Sambuci Wine. It was rich, juicy and high flavored, possessing none of the peculiarities which distinguish the manufactured sugared wines and cider champagnes. He told us the proprietor, Mr. A. Speer, of New Jersey, U. S. A., had been awarded a gold cup by the American Institute for the excellence of his wine. This is a new phase in the produce of America—a wine country.—[Dickens' "All the Year Round."

We quote the above with pride that we do produce one wine in this country that Europeans acknowledge superior to their own production.—For a 4th of July dinner it cannot be excelled.

These distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. DYSENTERY OR DIARRHŒA SYRUP.

WM. H. READ'S COMPOUND CONCENTRATED SYRUP OF BLACKBERRY ROOT,

For Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Summer Disease, or for Children's Teething, this truly valuable Syrup stands without an equal, as thousands of our citizens can testify. It not only checks the bowels, but corrects and regulates them, thus obviating the necessity of any other medicine.

Capt. Wedge, who now resides No. — Fayette street, formerly in command of the bark Wenham, a vessel owned by Messrs Jas. Corner & Sons, had on board seven men, including himself, ill, very ill with dysentery. He treated them solely with Wm. H. Read's COMP. BLACKBERRY SYRUP, and in a few days, strange as it may seem, he had them perfectly well. I got this from his own lips.

The price is 50 cents per bottle.

Manufactured only by WM. H. READ, 147 Baltimore street, under Carroll Hall, one door east of Calvert street.

CREAM SYRUP MINERAL WATER.

This is the most elegant drink we know of. WM. H. READ has fitted up, at great expense, a most magnificent Mineral Water Fountain. The syrups are all made
