LETTER FROM WASHINGTON. [Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.] WASHINGTON, March 27th, 1865.

Let us Appeal to the Citizene of the United seventy nine. States in the Insurgent Communities. If the members of the Davis Junta, at Rich mond, could be removed, the people of the track, and five passenger care were piled in insurgent States would return to their alla giance under the Constitution and laws the United States before June. This mar appear a bold piece of dogmatic assertion; but information from reliable sources demands and justifies our belief in its trath and sout

No man who had been acquainted with those | ticket agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railcommunities, by personal observation and road. intercourse for years before the rebellion, as I had been, ever doubted that the dynasty of such persons as Davis, Besjamin, Bildel. and Cobb, and their affiliated comprisations. must have been exceedingly distanteful to large portions of those classes most distin guished by accial position, education, wealth and all the advantages which result from these conditions.

The latter, for the most part, belonged to the old Whig party, and had adhered to the great national and contenuative principles of Clay and Webster, maintaining the cause of the Union and the supremacy of the Federal Covernment against all assailants, whether found among Northern Dem: crats or Bouth ern ultra States Rights men. It is not many years since the Whige of Tennessee, for instarce, were only effective opponents, in that Blate to the Instateur dieunioniem frat openly bresched in the famous Nashville Convention of 1850; and it is a curious illustration of the changes which time brings about, and of the espriciousness of popular favor, that some who had not a word to say for the supremacy of the Constitution, and egainst the cresweening assumptions of the Biato Bights factions in these days, -and who adhered to Democracy so long as Democracy was profitable,have, wit's brerzed fronts, come in lately and claimed the honors which should be reserved for lorg-continued, devoted, consistent and distaterested kyalty to the principles upon which alone our Federal Government can stand. On the other hand, it is equally true and important that many good and truehearted citizens who, by their votes, their infixence, and their liberal contributions, kept alive the National Union party in the Southern and Bouthwestern States, - but who had "The post of kener is a prevale station"and had no relish for the walgar tug and tussle of particans, finding themselves suddenly everwhelmed by the whirlyind of revolution, | 1-15.-The following is just issued by yielded temporarily to violence and terror and local despotism for the sake of their familier-though in their hearts despising and de- March 3, 185, provides that any person testing the conspirators who precipitated their States into rebellion, and still loving the United States with a fervor that could never be transferred to any other sovereignty -- least of all to a cabal composed of upstarts

PASHIONS. New York "Fashions" say there is a change already in the waterfall pins, facetiously called by men "dumb bells." The nected by an elastric string, were considered the height of style. These have been superseded by the most fantastic and really grotesque shapes. Made of ebony. cornelian, amber, bronze, coral, silver steel, and gold-exrved, inlaid, and covered with golden frame-work-every imaginable design is imitated, too numerous to enumerate. The most elaborate are brenzed wheels, each spoke covered with fire arabesques. Arrows, inlaid with glittering gems: onyx seals, with pendants of golden bells; white lily-cupwith broad green enamelled leaves; gold and silver trumpets—these will give an ides of the captice and extravagance We find in a New York paper the following notice of the fashionable rage in that city: The vanity and display of poplina, silks, Marseilles, French calicoes, and, above all, organdies, were never so remarkable and beautiful. Drasses ar the latest fist-and short sacks, wit' jaunty pockets, and buttons answering to the coat called "Fipley" among men, wi be greatly in vegue. Walking suits of brown silk, with long, close fitting basques, are to be haut ton. Skirts are profusely trimmed, and fancy goes wild in devising new patterns; but they are now ! so universally and gracefully disposed over the gorgeous petticoats that the fes toons alone are trimming enough.
