

Taschenberger Farmhouse
AL-111-B-151
Oldtown Road
ca. 1890's

This farmhouse is located east of Cumberland near North Branch. The farm has been a productive one in the fertile lands along the Potomac River. The prosperity of the farm is reflected in the decorative features and ample size of the house. These features include decoratively pedimented windows and doors and a fine slate roof.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Tashenberger Farmhouse is located south of Oldtown Road near North Branch.

This farmhouse is a "T" shaped structure two and one half stories tall and five bays wide on the east. Wall construction is frame with germansiding. The building rests on a high foundation of rock faced ashlar stone with raised joints and a plain water table. Eaves consist of a cornice, bedmould and frieze. The gable flank roof is covered with slate shingles, including a band of diamon shaped shingles. The three gable ends have a shallow triangular pediment covered with imbricated shingles, with pedimented double windows.

Wall features include cornerboards. Two original corbeled brick chimneys are located on the interior and inside end. The decoratively pedimented main entrance in the center of the eastern facade has light original hardware, and a two light transom. Pegged, two over two light windows have fluted jambs and wooden lugsills. Windows on the second story are capped by the continuous frieze. Other windows have a decorative pediment.

A hip roofed wraparound veranda has capped square posts. A hip roofed porch on the west has decoratively cut and bracketed posts.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Taschenberger Farmhouse is located in the Spring Gap region of Allegany County. Many people in this area are farmers. The Mason Davis Dairy Farm is within a half-mile of the Taschenberger farm.

Farming "was neither easy or prosperous", particularly in eastern Allegany County where "the rocky, hilly terrain and submarginal soil make this a risky undertaking at best."⁽¹⁾ There was no other major industry in small communities like Spring Gap, so most people relied on farming to make a living.

The Taschenberger Farmhouse is in original condition and it stands as a reminder of the way of life experienced by farmers in eastern Allegany County.
