Located at 47 Baltimore Street, the building stands on the southerly side of the street near the western end of the block formed by Mechanic and Liberty Street. The building is an early-mid twentieth century brick structure of three stories with a shop front on the street level. It stands in a row tight to the sidewalk but is a separate building. The upper levels have a set of two windows spaced in the center with a single window on each side. The windows have double-hung wooden sashes with one-over-one lights. There are two masonry belt courses that include the window sills. Three rectangular designs are worked into the bricks between the second and third floors. There is a small masonry cornice below a closed balustrade at the top of the facade.
