STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Blank Frame House was built by John Edward Blank in 1881. Blank was a fireclay miner for the Union Mining Company which was based in nearby Mount Savage. (1) Fireclay was mined from the mountains and firebricks were produced beginning in 1839. (2) " During the late 19th century " the Union Mining Company" was the largest manufacturer of firebrick in the country." (3)

Blank, who was a member of a Pennsylvania farming family, built this frame house on Fireclay Mountain where he had purchased a three acre tract to farm. (4) Katherine Harvey, in her book The Best Dressed Miners, lists agricultural land as selling from fifty to seventy dollars an acre in 1887, a price which matches the purchase price of Blank's three acres .(5) Blank Frame House stands as a reminder of the way of life experienced in western Allegany County during the late 19th century.
