The Waddy Cottage is a one and one half storey frame dwelling with a gable roof. The plan of the house is a T shape with an enclosed porch on the wouthern view. The house is unique in that it exhibits a scalloped edgcec, blue and white awning over the porch - an element which is not consistently utilized in this community.

Highland Beach is located about ten miles south of Annapolis on the Chesapeake Bay. The Waddy Cottage is located on a block that is bounded by Bay Avenue on the north, Bruce Xvenue on the east, Douglass Avenue to the south, and Walnut Drive on the west. The site is situated between two creeks - Black Walnut Creek and Oyster Creek - which flow into the Chesapeake Bay. The topography of the lot slopes towards the Chesapeake Bay and supports dense vegetation. The community is nestled within a woodlike setting in spite of its proxim ity to the sandy beach.

The Waddy cottage is constructed upon a pier foundation which is camouflaged by wooden lattice work which is similar to other foundation systems in the community. The house is finished with novelty siding which is also partially utilized on the enclosed porch. A flat roof is positioned over the front porch below the gable end of the second storey on the southern view. Windows on the first floor are double hung with multiple lights. The second level exhibits single paned, double hung windows and a set of gable roof dormers. The cross section of the T plan is covered with a flat roof on both ends.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Highland Beach, Maryland is a historic black town that was founded by the son of Frederick Douglass. The town was conceived by Haley R. Douglass in the late nineteenth century to be a resort community for prominent blacks. Highland Beach is a unique existing reminder of town planning and architectural history as it relates to vernacular and high style design as exhibited by black people. Most of the architecture in Highland Beach is located on the original sites and building expansions were performed within a ten to fifteen year time frame. This provides us with a concise history of design, space planning, and architecture in a homogeneous, extant community.

All of the cottages there were constructed prior to 1930 are important elements related to town planning and design. It is important that these houses retain their originality in terms of plan design, lot orientation, interior decoration, and architectural aesthetics in order to preserve the concept of space and the dynamics of community development in this historic black town.
