

BA-22
Chapman House 4535 Allen Drive, off the north side of Liberty Road Holbrook

about 1750

This gable-roofed stone house was built in a vernacular style, and now has a 2 1/2-story wing which serves to connect the kitchen and dining rooms. It was built on the tract "Caroline Felix." George H. Ritter was shown as the owner on the 1877 Hopkins atlas. At the time of the 1798 tax list, it was owned by Thomas Dickson, and measurements were 21.5 by 42 feet. The 1918 measurements were 26 by 44 feet. It was uninhabitable when described in 1871 court testimony, but has undergone several phases of extensive repair. In 1981, a log, 12 x 12' smokehouse survived; also a stone springhouse. The house was owned at that time by Albert Kermisch and Jack Sobel, but was acquired in 1985 by Neil Klingelhoffer.
