

GORSUCH STONE BARN - 1841 - Westside of York Road at Ensor Mill Road. Now called Glencoe Gardens. Large stone barn with brickwork louvers in the hourglass and diamond pattern in end walls. Originally part of what was called Retreat Farm by the Gorsuch family who supposedly moved away from North Point during the War of 1812. Photographed in 1927 by Frances Benjamin Johnson (prints in Baltimore Museum of Art). Now property of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Price, who in 1952 began conversion of barn into dwelling, antique shop and garden center. Owner: Retreat Farm, Inc.

037 027 104

Maryland
Baltimore County
District VIII
(Glencoe Gardens) York Road and Ensor Mill Road

BA-129

Gorsuch Stone Barn

1812

Large stone building with brick design in end walls.
Originally called Retreat Farm after family moved from North Point, during War of 1812.

Today, the property of Mr. & Mrs. William C. Price; converted to a home, antique shop, and nursesey.

(First HABS Report)
E. Frances Offutt
HABS COMMITTEE OF BALTIMORE
COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

July 29, 1965