c. 1877

Thomas Todd House, site
(Lackley House)

0.15 mile north of Old Bosley Road,
0.55 mile east of present Warren Road
Cockeysville

This mansion was a large Victorian house with a mansard roof and Italianate bracketing. Built of frame, it was painted white, with a center hallway plan. There was a cupola atop a center pavilion.

The former Thomas Todd house and then the Lackley house, it was shown as Todd's in the 1877 atlas. It was demolished in early 1967 to build the Spring Dale subdivision.
