DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The structure was built in several sections, beginning with what appears to have been the original dwelling and proceeding westward.

The original house is a one-and-one-half-story brick building of common bond with a gable roof, ridge on the long axis (as are all gables in the larger structure). The four-bay facade with entrance in the second bay has a shed porch across the first story. Windows are 6/6 except for the half story, which are 3/3. The gable end (east) has two windows in the first story, one above. The rear (north) elevation is three bays with windows only in the first story, with an entrance at the west; the east window is bricked in.

The west gable end adjoins the large frame laundry building, built in two sections. The first, wider than the brick structure, is a two-story, two-bay, gabled frame building, south wall flush with the brick wall, with a chimney in the west wall. The gable is not as steep as that of the brick house. The second addition is a long low gable roof frame structure. The south wall remains continuous with the first parts of that elevation for two bays, a window and a door, and then cones forward one bay to accommodate a window on the east. Both frame additions are built on high granite basements. There is a small stone loading dock on the north wall. The first addition is clapboard, the second has German siding.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The significance is primarily visual. The brick house may have some age and should be retained.

Recommendations

The frame sections of the building are sound, but vacant at present. Some use should be found for them. The brick house is occupied and should continue so. Alterations, changes in use should be discouraged. Routine maintenance and repair should be carried out with regard for the historic fabric. The slat screens beneath the porch need repair. The house should be kept painted.
