PLOWMAN HOUSE - 1895 - 18919 Hillcrest Avenue. The house, a two story, L-shaped country house is now in less than good condition. It faces the old railroad reservoir to the north and is south of the Talbott house. It was the home of Charles Plowman family until 1970 when it was sold to the LaFond's. The 1896 tax ledger shows Charles Plowman owning a frame dwelling and frame barn, still there; the property was on the south side of the NCRR and assessed for $2000 together. Reportedly also had a windmill and first bathroom installed.
