STANGE-STANSBURY HOUSE - c. 1800 - 1610 Cottage Lane, Loch Raven Village. Small stone telescope-house of one story plus a dormer level. An outbuilding of Union Hall, possibly a distillery converted for residential use. Shown as William E. Stansbury's in 1877 atlas. Before that it was John Ridgely's. Not found in 1798 tax list but primitive in appearance. It passed to William A. Hahn in 1926. House survived during the suburbanization of the area. Construction date uncertain. Located just west of the Babcock Memorial Presbyterian Church which itself fronts on Loch Raven Boulevard. Long history in Jeffersonian, September 13, 1930.
