Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

11901 Woodberry Place is a two story frame bank house with a central chimney projecting from a gable end roof which runs east to west. It is four bays wide of regular and even fenestration (altered 2/2 resting on a stone foundation of uncoarsed rubble. The present siding is asbestos shingling.

The main facade, facing north, is characterized by an enclosed full shed roof porch. It is four bays wide, the entrance occupying the two inner bays. The west end is blind, except for a central basement window in the foundation. The first story of the south facade extends to the south by an enclosed full shed roof porch, obliterating the basement and first floor. The east end is identical to the west end; earlier clapboards and nailers are visible through a hole in the siding.

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

Franklinville was a small mill community built on the banks of Little Gunpowder Falls, a suitable natural resource for a water powered industry. Franklinville Mill was constructed in 1826 and changed ownership several times during the nineteenth century. It was one of seven Maryland properties incorporated by Mt Vernon Woodberry Mills in 1899, a national industry specializing in the highly efficient production of cotton duck. Under the management of this large corporation, Franklinville with its Presbyterian church, dance hall and general store with post office, took on the character of a 19th century planned mill community. Company employees occupied duplex houses clustered around the mill and were provided with their essentials right there in the village. Franklinville's standard of living hinged upon the responsible management of Mt Vernon Woodberry, Inc. which derived its success from the profits of each mill under its control.

This residence contains the materials and structural elements representative of most of the Franklinville mill houses. It is a very simple mid nineteenth century frame building. It was a duplex with a massive central chimney serving both families, most importantly for the cooking fireplace located in the basement kitchen of this bank-house.
