Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

One of the less architecturally distinguished commercial structures in Denton, this brick building is two stories high and six bays wide with a shed roof. The first story has large display windows with cornices and transom lights and a central recessed entranceway with a multi-paned transom light. The windows on the second floor have 2/2 sash and are set in segmental arched openings. Small recessed brick panels are set between the second story and the roof line.
