This is a simple brick house of the Federal period, of a type which is commonly found in this county. The house is of common bond brick and is three bays wide and one room deep. The front of the house, unlike the side and rear walls, is of Flemish bond brick. There is an enclosed brick chimney at each end of the house. Along the front roof line is a cornice made of three rows of projecting bricks. All the windows are 6/6 sashes and the central door has a rounded brick arch. There are basement windows, segmentally arched and barred horizontally. The A-roof has a very gentle slope. This is a simple but attractive house, noteworthy as a good example of the type of small brick Federal house found in this county.
