

Another house type that provided many people with a place to call home is this two story three bay by one room frame structure with a kitchen ell or T addition to the rear. Hundreds of these houses were built throughout the county and seem to date between the County Historic Atlases of 1858 and 1877. This specific house was owned by A. C. Nowland in 1877.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Nowland House c. 1860 is a 2 story 3 bay by 1 room frame house on Grove Neck Road and west of Earleville, Md. The house faces north with the main gable running east/west.

The once center hall plan has been generally remodeled with a 2 story 20th century rear addition ~~to~~ <sup>rests</sup> to the south. The house <sup>rests</sup> on a fieldstone foundation and the original weather-boarding has been covered with aluminum. The composition tile roof has a medium slope with an interior end brick stove stack in each gable. The window sash remain with their 6/6 division but stock brick molding has replaced the earlier surrounds. A 19th century door still occupies the central entrance with its heavily molded four panels. The top two longer panels above the ~~door~~ <sup>lock rail</sup> are arched. A front porch used to stretch across the ~~front~~ <sup>known north facade</sup> but was torn off due to disrepair.

The interior has been extensively remodeled with the removal of the east stair wall and application of paneling.

The outbuildings are representatives of mid 19th century farm buildings. A granary, wagon sheds and medium sized barn are located to the south of the main house.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Nowland House is one of hundreds of 2 story 3 bay center hall plan houses in the general area and in Cecil County. These houses seem to have been built at approximately the same time through out the County; after the Martznet Map (1858) and before the 1877 Lake, Griffing, and Stevenson Atlas. This house was owned in 1877 by an A.C. Nowland. The structure has lost most of its architectural significance since its remodeling.
