CARR-186 John Smith House
3458 UNIONTOWN ROAD

3458 Uniontown Road was sold by William Roberts to John Smith in 1842 for $200. This price indicates that there may have been minor improvements on the site, but the house as it appears today is primarily the result of Smith's ownership. Roberts lived in a house on the adjoining property now owned by the Taneytown Bank and Trust Company. In 1842, Roberts was building a new storeroom as a wing onto the Uniontown Hotel (3477 Uniontown Road) and perhaps the sale of this quarter-acre lot from his residential property provided more capital for his business enterprise. Smith improved the house to its present design, and it was sold from his estate in 1883 for $2,200. The architectural style of the building provides an excellent example of conservative mid-nineteenth century design that represents a substantial and stylish residence for Uniontown. It has a five-bay symmetrical facade based upon the central entrance flanked by two six-over-six pane windows on each side. The brickwork is Flemish bond on the main facade with flat-arch lintels over the windows and a double sawtooth cornice at the eaves. The door frame dates from a mid-twentieth century remodeling and has an unusual sunburst motif above a three-pane transom flanked by narrow pilasters. In this case, the L-shaped plan of the house is created by a one and one-half story ell. The L-shaped plan is frequently found in this region with service uses, such as the kitchen and pantry, located in the ell.

4. NOTABLE FEATURES, HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE AND DESCRIPTION OPEN TO PUBLIC

This is a 5 "bay" house, viz. a center door flanked by 2 windows at each side, south (front) elevation. The door is ~~deep~~ recessed ~~with~~ with paneled inside walls framing the door and overlight. Above the overlight is a simple wood dummy fanlight (sunburst) at the second floor level are 5 windows, the roof is "A" plan with the ridge running E. to W. and an interior chimney at ea. end. The rear (N) portion of this house (giving the whole composition a "2" shape) is the more interesting. The N. most portion appears to be the original house or what was once the summer kitchen, is 2 bays at the W. wall with 2 dormers above, "A" plan roof and large chimney at the N. gable (interior) and a shed or pent addition of 1 story to that (N. end). The front (S) elevation of the whole

5. PHYSICAL CONDITION OF STRUCTURE Endangered Interior Exterior

Structure has been rejointed and its brick was laid in a Flemish bond while the W. wall is English bond.

All windows 6/6 panes & jack arches certainly one of the more interesting and better kept dwellings in Union Town.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a 5 "bay" dwelling (center door flanked by two windows at ea. side) on the S. (front) elevation. The door is recessed with paneled inside walls framing both the door and overlight. Above the overlight is a solid wood carved fan (light).

At the 2nd floor level are 5 windows. The roof is "A" plan with the ridge running E-W and possesses an interior chimney at ea. gable end.

The rear (NW) portion is by far the more interesting exterior. The Northernmost section appears to have been the original house or a kitchen, is 2 bays at the 1st. and roof level, has the "A" frame roof with a very large ~~at its exposed interior~~ chimney at its exposed end (N). To this same N END is a shed ~~or~~ roofed pent extension.

The facade of the main block has had its Flemish bond brickwork cleaned and the joints repointed. The end walls were laid in English bond ^{and} all windows are 6/6 sash \pm jack arches.

Certainly this house is one of the more interesting and better maintained dwellings in Union Town
