This frame farmhouse is situated at the east foot of Bishop Hill and faces east. It is a two story three by one bay structure with an ell, two bays across extending from the rear center with shed additions to either side of the ell. The roofs are gabled. A porch, with chamfered wooden posts and jig-sawn balustrades, runs across the facade of the house. Aside from the central front entrance with transom, the house can be entered from the rear and from modern sliding patio doors on the south elevation of the shed addition.

A brick chimney is located on the rear ell between it and the shed addition, to the south. Two over two sash windows light the house with two three over one sash windows on the first floor rear of the structure. The house rests on a stone block foundation. Aluminum siding covers the house. Asphalt shingles cover the roof.
