John W. Lower House
Gortner
Private

The John W. Lower House is a two story, gable-roofed, frame building on a foundation of coursed, roughly squared stone. Its basic configuration is a two bay by two bay rectangular plan with a gable end facade, two porches, and two bay windows. The appearance of the exterior has changed drastically due to the removal of the roof cross gables, the replacement of its original windows with aluminum 1/1 sash, and the addition of aluminum siding.

The facade (SE elevation) has a two story bay window occupying its southern side and a transom topped door on its east side. The top half of the door is filled by a frosted glass pane with a picture of a woman in a flowing dress imprinted in it. A hip-roofed porch with four turned posts and jigsaw brackets extends across the full length of the facade.

The John W. Lower House is a two story, gable-roofed, frame building on a foundation of coursed, roughly squared stone. The top half of the door is filled by a frosted glass pane with a picture of a woman in a flowing dress imprinted in it. A hip-roofed porch with four turned posts and jigsaw brackets extends across the full length of the facade.

The second bay window is located at the northern end of the northeast elevation. The small diamond-shaped window on this wall provides light for the staircase. An enclosed hip-roofed porch occupies most of the first floor level on the southwest wall.
