Stone and frame farmhouse built in different times of stone and wood. A two story house facing east, the stone part ^{to the south} is under the same slate roofline as the frame part of the main house, and there is a frame wing offset from the north end of the house. The main house appears to be late 18th ~~up~~ up to mid 19th century. Three chimneys are at the ends of the main house and the north end of the small wing.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE (Include Personages, Dates, Events, Etc.)

This little place probably owes its survival and excellent condition to a site on Rte 24 (in on a level lane) and a charming sweep of fields to the west across a farm pond. Perhaps the smallest wing was once an early cabin, ~~misapprehension~~ though it now ~~stands~~ has a nice little Victorian bay window facing east, or perhaps the earliest house is swallowed up in the frame part of the main house. Adapted to changes in family size and to the life style of its owners, it is now a small country estate.
