DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

225 S. Washington St. is a two and a half story, three bay wide frame dwelling with a gable front roof, located on the corner of S. Washington St. and Fountain St., facing west. Built in the late 19th century, the house is a vernacular blend of the Eastlake and Gothic Revival styles. One bay wide gable additions project from the east ends of the north and south elevations, combining with a two story wing on the rear to give the structure, the shape of a cross- with the short arms parallel to the street. Both the main section and wing are covered with aluminum siding and rest on a granite ashlar foundation.

A curving eight bay Eastlake porch extends across the entire front and half of the south elevation. The above grade porch has a flat tin roof with an open work spindle frieze supported by bracketed and turned posts with raised circles between the brackets at the tops of the posts. The railing consists of turned posts, and pierced screens occur between the brick piers of the porch foundation. A less elaborate two bay porch with bracketed posts and a shed roof is on the south elevation of the wing. In addition, the wing has a roof deck on the north end of the east elevation.

Windows, containing 1/1 light double hung sash, are spaced evenly on the front elevation. Like most of the other windows, they have plastic louvered shutters framing them. Two pointed arch windows, having 1/1 light sash, are in the center gable while each of the side gables contain a single pointed arch window. Three part bay windows, having 1/1 light sash on the first story and 2/2 light sash on the second story, are in the gable addition on the the south elevation. Windows in the wing have 2/2 light sash.

The main entrance is in the north bay, front elevation. The entry, consisting of three light sidelights and a rectangular four light transom, holds a glass door framed by a narrow band of wood. Above the transom is a simple pediment with wooden floral designs applied to it. Other entrances are found in the wing.

The main section has a gable front roof with smaller side gables, all of which are covered with slate shingles. A brick interior chimney is near the center of the roof. The wing has a lower pitched gable roof shingled with asphalt. Both roofs have overhanging eaves that are closed.

The house has a yard in the back with the Funeral Parlor, which is the owner's bussiness, next to it.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This large late Victorian house is frame and has a wrap-around veranda. Situated on a corner, it is a prominent building in its neighborhood. Along with many of the late 19th century dwellings in Havre de Grace, the house has a gable flank roof and displays a combination of Gothic Revival and Eastlake details.

The house was built for a member of the present owner's family.

All along South Washington Street are well maintained, mid to late 19th century, frame dwellings, relating to each other in size, scale, style and material. Many of them are gabled, Carpenter Gothic cottages on grassy lots that extend to the alleys behind them; built as one and two family dwellings most of them retain that scheme of occupancy. However, because Harford Memorial Hospital is one block west, the neighborhood has become vulnerable to the intrusion of buildings related to the medical profession. Displacing the old houses, these new buildings not only represent architectural intrusions but discourage buyers who are attracted initially to the cozy, homogeneous appearance of this part of Havre de Grace but fear it is changing.
