Section 7.1

The Mullinix Mill-Site, which is located on Mullinix Mill Road near Damascus, at one time contained Mullinix Mill, a miller's house, and a barn that was built in 1910 after the mill burned. These structures have all deteriorated and are no longer visible due to the dense vegetation that covers them.

Barn on Annapolis Rock Road

Montgomery Co., MD

C. Mazurek

November 1996

Section 7.1

This barn is located on Annapolis Rock Road near the Patuxent River right across from what used to be the Mullinix Mill site. This barn, of frame construction, rests on a foundation that is composed of loose fieldstone and has many corners that are missing segments of the foundation. The entire structure is covered with vertical wood siding and has a rusted tin roof. Overall the barn is in poor condition, but could possibly be upgraded to provide better shelter. This structure may be part of the Mullinix Mill site that was located directly across the street, and if this is the case it could date from the late nineteenth century.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The only building remaining from the mill complex is the miller's house. This is a two-story, frame structure of five bays. Windows are 6/6, and there is a returned cornice.

The house is perched on the edge of a hill above the old mill pond area. There is a barn that was built after the mill burned.
