Justification for decision: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map)

Based on the available information, including the 1974 inventory form and 1996 amendment, Locust Grove II does not appear to meet the National Register Criteria for individual listing. The property includes a house with a c. 1810 stone section and c. 1860 frame wing, an historic corncrib, and a number of nonhistoric outbuildings and structures, including a pool/tennis complex and a horse barn. The property was built for John Howard Riggs, an officer in the Revolutionary War and member of a prominent local family. The modest farmhouse was recorded in a HABS photograph of 1941 and appears similar to many in the area. Unfortunately, the early- to mid-19th century house no longer retains sufficient integrity to warrant inclusion in the Register under any criteria. A new owner acquired the property in 1970 after a period of neglect and undertook extensive renovations, including facing the frame wing and ell with brick, replacing a one-bay porch with a full width porch, replacing early all windows and much of the interior trim, and adding a garage and additon at the north end of the house. In addition, the grounds around the house were extensively altered and several new buildings were constructed. The present house bears little resemblance to the 19th century dwelling and the grouping fails to convey a sense of a 19th century farmstead.

The property was removed from Montgomery County's Locational Atlas in 1987 due to the extensive alterations.

Locust Grove II is located northwest of Brookeville, but would not contribute to that National Register-listed historic district, which includes all of (and only) the property included in the Town at its founding.

Description

This multi-part structure consists of a stone section, built in 1810 for John Howard Riggs, a ca. 1860 frame addition (s) built by Brice Worthington Howard, and additions to the ell wing by the current owner, Donald Nash. As recorded in a HABS photograph of 1941 the structure consisted of a three bay wide stone wing, of random ashlar masonry, finely cut angle quoins and splayed jack arches. A full width porch spanned the south entrance facade, sheltering the entrance in the east bay which featured paneled reveals. There was a brick chimney inside the west end wall, emerging at the peak of the gable roof which paralleled the east-west flank of the structure. The lights were two-over-two, with one over one lights in the west gable end.

The ca. 1860 a frame wing, two bays wide, continued the roof line of the stone wing on the west. A two and one-half story ell projected north from the rear of the addition. A brick chimney was located inside of the east end wall of this section.

When Donald Nash purchased the property in 1970 it was heavily deteriorated with no plantings near the house or formal gardens or terracing intact. The sole outbuilding was a dilapidated corncrib. Not only had the house never been updated with electricity, indoor plumbing or heat, but it had been extensively vandalized. Much interior trim had been destroyed, and the grounds in the immediate vicinity of the house were nearly devoid of vegetation. Mr. Nash heavily restored the property with salvaged materials, replaced nearly all of the fenestration, dug out a garage beneath the ell, regraded around the perimeter of the dwelling and removed two chimneys.

Fireplaces were moved on the interior and dormers added to the south slope of the roof. The west face of the ell was extended with a brick shed roof addition. Mantles, plus a variety of trim, either new or salvaged from destroyed structures, were added. The frame sections (east wing and ell) were faced with brick. The full width porch was replaced with a one-bay wide structure, and a gabled frame extension was built over the bulkhead entrance on the west end. Finally, it appears that not only were numerous windows added to the east wing and ell, but those on the south side appear to have been enlarged.

Statement of Significance
Continuation Sheet 8.1

This historic property, located west of Brookeville, is composed of two historic structures set in a cluster of modern structures such as horse barns, pool house, and tennis/pool complexes. The landscape is characterized by rolling hills and fields, plus many large trees. The two historic structures, a dwelling and corncrib, have been heavily altered. The house has been radically and extensively changed on the interior with new finishing materials, and on the exterior with brick cladding, dormers, chimneys and new/altered fenestration, plus additions.

The house had its genesis in the form of a stone dwelling, with a hall/parlor plan on the first floor and three chambers on the second (according to Roger Farquhar), built by John Howard Riggs in 1810. He was a man of some note, representing Montgomery County from 1811 to 1815, and again in 1821 and a member of the first Board of Trustees of the Brookeville Academy. The property passed to Ephraim Gaither in ca. 1824, and was purchased by Jeremiah Howard shortly thereafter. It was during the tenure of his son, Brice Worthington Howard, that the house was expanded to the east with a frame addition, later faced with brick by the current owner.

In the 1870's and 1880's the Howard's expanded the size of the farm (249 acre Bordley's Choice and 33 acre Brooke Grove and Discovery bequeathed to descendants by Jeremiah Howard) with the addition of 46 acres of land bordering the west side of MD 97 (the Newlin Mill property) and 36 acres owned by the Gattrell's.

Although the property retains the ambiance of a country estate with its farm fields, open rolling hills and fenced horse pastures, the outbuilding and dwelling have lost integrity. Restored with re-used and salvaged materials, with only one original mantle and a heavily re-worked and modernized interior, the dwelling lacks integrity of materials and workmanship. Almost all of the fenestration has been replaced, although in the stone part windows were possibly replaced in-kind. However, in the frame section, which has been veneered with brick, the fenestration has been greatly altered, especially on the east and north facades, destroying the integrity of design and workmanship. In addition, the size of the windows on the south side may have been enlarged.

Statement of Significance

A modern chimney located at the junction of the main part and ell wing of the frame addition replaced two original chimneys (one in east end wall, and another in the middle of the ell-wing cross gable at the roof apex).

The immediate environs of the house, reduced to bare dirt in some areas during the years of its decline prior to 1970, and having been heavily modernized with subterranean garage and pool/tennis complex, does not retain the requisite level of integrity as regards setting, feeling and association which would warrant its inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places. None of the terraced gardens which evidently existed on the property at one time are extant.

APPENDIX A

SITES NOT RECOMMENDED FOR REGULATION UNDER THE HISTORIC PRESERVATION ORDINANCE CHAPTER 24A OF THE MONTGOMERY COUNTY CODE

The following sites have been reviewed by the Montgomery County Historic Preservation Commission and were found not to merit designation of the Master Plan for Historic Preservation. If not included in the Master Plan, these resources may be removed from the Locational Atlas and Index of Historic Sites in Montgomery County. If removed from the Locational Atlas, the sites will no longer be governed by the Moratorium on Alteration and Demolition, Section 24A-10 of the County's Historic Preservation Ordinance. The sites will, however, remain on the Maryland Historical Trust's Inventory.

The following sites were found by the Preservation Commission to be too greatly altered from the period of their architectural or historical significance or not to meet Ordinance criteria for designation.
