DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This tenant house for the "Doub's Mill" (WA-II-090) is located along the south side of Beaver Creek Road a short distance southwest of Doub's Mill in Washington County, Maryland. It is situated on the east bank of the Beaver Creek and faces north or toward the road.

The structure is a one-and-a-half story, three-bay dwelling with white trim. The walls are constructed of roughly coursed local fieldstone with careful stone cutting evident in the corner blocks or quoins. There is no decorative stonework associated with the exterior of the building.

Full size windows are present in the front, east and south elevations. The openings contain six-over-six light double-hung sashes. Wide wooden members frame the openings. Secured with wooden pins, the window frames are finished with a bead at their inside edge. A six-over-six pane window is present at the upper story in the east gable. The west gable has a pair of small openings under the roof.

The entrance is located in the central bay of the front or north wall, but is placed toward the north end of that wall. The doorway is very plain in appearance and is framed similarly to the windows.

A small shed roof entrance porch is present at the front elevation.

The roof is covered with sheet metal which has been placed over wooden shingles. There is no decorative work at the eaves and the roof plate is clearly visible. A tapered barge board with a beaded edge finishes the roof at the gables.

The house is part of the Doub's Mill complex and stands on a tract containing 71.62 acres. It is in fair condition.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The area of significance of this house is its architecture. It is one of several stone dwellings located along the Beaver Creek and like many of the others was associated with the Newcomer family, who engaged in several grain milling operations in the area. The Newcomers came to Washington County from Lancaster Co., Pa., during the latter part of the 18th century.

The house is also important as part of the Doub's Mill or Newcomer's Mill complex. Milling was a major economic concern in early Washington County. The property has been in the Doub family since 1823. Prior to that time it was known as Samuel Newcomer's plantation. The Mill is shown on 1794 (Dennis Griffith) 1808 (Charles Varle) and 1859 maps of the area. For a listing of deed records for this property, see inventory form WA-II-089 (Doub's Mill House).

This tenant house with its simplicity of design is important as an example of the stone vernacular architecture of the Cumberland Valley. The entire Beaver Creek area is outstanding for its numerous late 18th and early 19th century buildings as well as for its scenic merit. The character of the area has not yet been altered by 20th century development.
