This house is a two story, four bay log structure located on the south side of West Potomac Street, facing north. Its front wall is sheathed with plain lapped siding while the west end wall is covered with board and batten siding. Windows are irregularly spaced and small in size. They have two over two pane sashes with the upper sashes having curved tops. There are two central front entrances, each with a transom. A central brick chimney rises from the roof peak. Asphalt shingles cover the roof. The house would appear to date from the late 18th century.
