This house faces west onto Maryland Route 231. It is a 1920's or 1930's Colonial Revival house. The two-story three-bay single-pile brick structure has six-over-six double-hung sash and a gabled, slate-covered roof. The brick is laid in a distinctive bond that is both Flemish and 5-course American. There are plain vertical-stretcher jack arches over all openings. The doorway is embellished with attenuated Doric columns which support an arch, cornice, and gable roof. There are several rear one-story extensions. The house has been converted for use as physicians' offices.
