Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

Sited on a raised platform of earth, this stuccoed nave-plan church faces west toward Solomons Island Road at the Patuxent River. Salient buttresses alternate with lancet windows on the long sides. On the front gable end, a wide lancet entrance and a surmounting lancet window are framed by a pair of gabled salient buttresses. A bell tower with an open lantern and polygonal steeple is set at the southeast corner of the building. Parapet walls obscure the gable roof. The style of this church building is Spanish colonial. Set on a raised basement, this structure is four bays long and has a recent flat-roofed rear addition.
