DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Sitting back from route 16, west of the village of Madison is a late 19th century farmhouse with a row of period out buildings. In style it is very similar to its neighbor, close to the road. It has a "T" plan with porches on the front and back of the stem of the "T". One gable faces the roadside and has a bay window. The porch with its balustrade and brackets has a gable above the entrance thereto. The rear porch lacks a balustrade.

Perhaps this type building is a carry over of the plan sometime called the quaker plan and which is found in such early houses as Bounds Lott and Long Hill, Wicomico County, and Hampden in Talbot County.
