DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Adjacent the Thomas Store in the village of Thomas stands a handsome frame house which was built in the last quarter of the nineteenth century. It is three bays long, two storys tall with a two story 'L' on the back, a leanto in the angle of the 'L'. Across the three bay facade is a one story hip roof porch, with turned balustrade and turned and pierced brackets and frieze. Each of the front corners is cut on a forty five degree angle, the surface extending to the square roof which in this area has fretwork gallery. There is also a window on both storys and a balustrade at porch level beneath the gallery. In the center of the roof is a gable with decorative shingle surface and fretwork apex. The two chimneys have a very bold cap with corbels and dentils.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The building is similar to many houses on Hoopers Island, but this has been little altered during its life. It is a good example of the Queen Anne style added onto a vernacular structure, in such a way that the squareness of the vernacular structure is quite distinguishable from the "gingerbread" and decoration of the Queen Anne. It is one of the few houses of this period on Hill Point Road and it probably represents the affluence of the merchant who operated the Thomas Store.
