DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two story commercial building appears to have at one time been two separate but adjoining buildings, with practically identical cornices, with dentils and brackets at the corners. Although this brick building probably dates to the late 19th century, it has been completely renovated with only the original cornice remaining. The second story has been covered with concrete and the first story has been modernized by full length plate glass windows on either side of the double center door.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Renovation has radically altered the appearance of this building, destroying its original character. Urban renewal plans for Cambridge might consider ways to return buildings such as this to an appearance that is in keeping with the original character of the building and its surrounding environment.
