

WO-240
School No. 3
Bishopville vicinity private

c. 1870

Converted to a community hall for the congregation of the Zion United Methodist church, School No. 3 is a plain single-story weatherboard frame structure reflective of the numerous rural educational buildings erected throughout Worcester County during the second half of the nineteenth century. Architectural details suggest a post-Civil War date, and the building is designated on the 1877 Lake, Griffing and Stevenson atlas.

Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

School No. 3, now the community hall for the Zion United Methodist church, stands on the north side of Back Creek Road in the vicinity of Bishopville, Worcester County, Maryland. The single-story frame building faces south with the gable oriented on a north/south axis.

Dating to around 1870, the single-story, gable front frame building is supported by reworked brick foundation and it is sheathed with a layer of plain weatherboard siding. The steeply pitched roof is covered with asphalt shingles. A shed addition has been attached to the east side.

The south (main) elevation is a plain weatherboard wall aside from the center door opening. The door has been replaced, and poured concrete steps have been laid to reach the entrance. The eaves are slightly extended.

The west side of the building is pierced by two six-over-six sash windows, and the northernmost bay is covered by a single-story frame addition.

The east side is fully covered by the modern frame addition which rests on a stuccoed block foundation and is covered by plain weatherboards.

The interior was not seen.
