Description of Property and Eligibility Determination: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map and photo)
With its location along the river's edge at the northern entrance to Pocomoke City, the Duncan Brothers' garage, known to older town residents as Clogg's garage, is a prominent historic and architectural landmark. Standing on the site of the large, pyramidal-roofed livery stable that appears in historic images of the waterfront, the single-story Colonial Revival garage was built at about the same time the state-funded river bridge was completed in 1921. The well-preserved condition of its Market Street elevation makes the building an important commercial structure in downtown Pocomoke City. The garage boasts a handsome series of Tuscan columns across its front.
