The Caretaker's Cottage for the Convent of the Sisters of the Visitation is a modest one-and-one-half story frame dwelling. It is sited on the original convent property outside the cloistered walls, north of the main building. Its frame structure is covered with wooden weatherboards painted white. The simple gable roof is covered with asphalt shingles, and features gable dormers and a brick chimney on the ridge line.

Square in plan, the first floor contains the entrance parlor, living room, den, kitchen, utility room, one bedroom, and one bath. Three bedrooms and one bath are in the attic story. A furnace room and a family room comprise the basement level.

This is an auxiliary building of the former convent. This building was occupied for many years by various caretakers of the convent grounds. No further information was obtained from research conducted or from the sisters interviewed. It appears that this building played only a minor role in the history of the convent.

11. Determination of Eligibility to be Included into the National Register

Eligible

Not Eligible

Due to its lack of demonstrated historical and/or architectural significance, Building 61 has been deemed "Not Eligible" for listing in the National Register. It is a relatively minor support structure, and when evaluated against the criteria for a National Register property, it has no distinguished properties or unique architectural features.
