Description of Property and Eligibility Determination: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map and photo)

The Byer Property, constructed in 1949, is a 1-story, 3-bay, side-gable, Colonial Revival-style residence. The house is located on the east side of Campground Road, south of Wesley Avenue. The building lacks architectural significance. It is of wood-frame construction with a concrete block foundation and asphalt shingle roof. The windows are wood 6/1 double-hung sash, with the exception of a large picture window measuring 9 by 5 lights. A brick exterior end chimney is located at the north gable end of the house in addition to a central interior chimney. A brick stoop with a front-gable roof supported by wooden posts is located at the south end of the front elevation. A concrete block porch with a shed roof carried by wrought iron supports is attached to the east elevation. A detached carport with a shed roof supported by metal posts is sited to the east of the residence. To the south of the carport is a gambrel roof, frame garden shed.

The Byer Property is not eligible for the National Register of Historic Places due to a lack of architectural significance. This property does not represent a historic event or trend that made a significant contribution to the development of the nation, state, or local community, and therefore is not eligible under Criterion A. Historic research also indicates that the property has no association with persons who have made specific contributions to history, and therefore, it does not meet Criterion B. One-story, side-gable houses are common subtypes of the Colonial Revival style in the first half of the twentieth century. The Byer Property is an indistinctive example of a common building type found throughout suburban areas and is therefore ineligible under Criterion C. Finally, investigations have not been conducted to determine whether the property has the potential to yield information important in history or pre-history, therefore, National Register Criterion D cannot be evaluated at this time.
