Based on the information provided, the Morgan property meets the National Register Criteria for Evaluation. The property is a portion of the Mt Pleasant estate of Captain Joseph Chapline, founder of Sharpsburg and Washington County leader, and is the location of a brick and stone two-part 18th century manor house which was constructed by Chapline. In addition to the house, the property includes several outbuildings and a bank barn. According to SHA, the house dates to the second and third quarters of the 18th century. The main portion of the house is brick and in the Georgian style. It is an unusually high style house for this early settlement period in Washington County. As the property is located adjacent to Antietam Battlefield, it most likely figured in the events of the Civil War. It has a high potential for both prehistoric and historic archeological remains. Thus, the property is eligible for the National Register under Criteria B, C, and D.
