Dear Dr. Adomanis,

I am writing in support of the training program for teachers proposed in the "Teaching in the Age of the Internet" grant application. The use and application of primary sources in instruction is an important focus of good social studies instruction and the Maryland School Performance Assessment Program. The impact of this program will go beyond Anne Arundel County schools into the other school systems to impact their instructional programs as well. I look forward to this program becoming a reality.

Sincerely,

Joann Prewitt
Social Studies Specialist
